FORCE SURRENDER OF MEXICAN TOWN

Threat of Rebel Forces Sent to Federals at Juarez Last Night.

DENIAL FROM GEN. NAVARRO

Declares He Has Received No Such Notice From Insurrectos—Peace More Favorable—Activity In Country.

El Paso, Texas, April 19.—A formal demand was made tonight on General John Navarro for the surrender of Juarez to the insurrecto army of Francisco I. Madero, Jr., within 24 hours. The demand reached General Navarro's headquarters while he was inspecting fortifications for the city's defense.

This was confirmed by Gonzales Garza, secretary for the insurrecto party, who said:

"Formal demand of the insurrectos for the surrender of Juarez within 24 hours has been made on General Navarro, commanding the Federal garrison of Juarez. The note was sent from El Paso by a messenger to United States Consul Edwards in Juarez to be transmitted by him to Navarro. No reply has been received."

Later it was learned that Consul Edwards delivered the note in Navarro's headquarters while the latter was away on a tour of inspection.

At 8 o'clock tonight General Navarro said:

"I have received no notice asking me to surrender." He turned on his heel.

"But General," the insurrectos secretary says that demand has been made," he was told.

"I have received no such notice," he replied, and walked away.

Garza was still in his office tonight at 8:30. He said he did not think he would leave El Paso tonight to see Madero.

"Our men are anxious for a fight, and I do not know if we can restrain them," he declared.

Ganzales Garza received passports during the day, he said this evening, permitting him to cross the line to visit Francisco I. Madero, and place before him the plans of Dr. Gomez in Washington for an armistice to discuss peace terms. Garza declared that he did not know whether he would go, as he did not know exactly where Madero is.

Garza when asked about the troops, said:

"Everybody knows the insurrecto forces have Juarez surrounded. I do not know when they will attack. Yes they have delivered the messages from Dr. Gomez to Mr. Madero. I have no orders from Gomez to Madero to cease fighting. Mr. Madero himself is the only man who can give orders to stop fighting.

Moyar Kelly this afternoon gave orders to the El Paso police to hold themselves in readiness in case their services are needed.

An Associated Press correspondent left El Paso in an automobile this afternoon in an atempt to locate Madero and get his views on the peace proposals.

At Bauche the correspondent found twelve insurrectos guarding a train of thirty cars, with a locomotive, steam up, ready to depart, if necessary. The insurrectos said that the entire rebel army had passed north and was in the ravines and mountains west and southwest of Juarez between that point and the border city. As Rauche is only twelve miles from Juarez, the insurrectos are close in.

Excitable Elpasoans had Juarez attacked several times today, but the town continued in its usual quiet way.

Many residents spent the day on top of tall buildings with field glasses and everytime a whirlwind carried the dust skyward on Mexican soil, they called down to friends that the battle had begun. The town is now fortified inside and outside.

Marching to Juarez.

Insurrecto Camp, Town of Madera, Chihuahua, Mexico, April 19.—Francisco I. Madero, Jr., is marching on the city of Juarez at the head of 1,940 insurgents, divided into five columns, one under the direct command of Madero and the other under the rebel General Brozco, Blanco, Villa and Salazar.

Abraham Ganzales, so-called provisional governor of Chihuahua, received a report from the insurrecto chief today reporting 28 Federals killed in a brush between the advance guard of the forces moving on Juarez, and a detail of troops sent south by General Navarro at Juarez. At Bauche Sunday, seven of the 160 insurrectos were killed it is reported here. Francisco Madero, Senor, heading a mission, spent last night here, the delegation proceeding north this morning, hoping to reach the young Madero Thursday.

NEW CATHEDRAL IS DEDICATED

Massive Episcopal Structure in New York City—Solemn and Impressive Ceremonies — Eventful Day.

New York, April 19.—With solemn ceremony and in the presence of a notable gathering of clergy and laity, the completed portions of the Cathedral of St. John, The Divine, on Morningside Heights, were consecrated today according to the rites of the Protestant Episcopal church.

The impressive offices were presided over by the Right Rev. David H. Greer, bishop of the Diocese of New York. Among the guests invited to witness the function were the representatives of many communions, presidents of universities and officers of city, State and nation.

Bishop Greer preached the sermon of the day, dwelling upon the value of the present day cathedral as a force for righteousness in modern life.

Bishop Greer read a letter written him by the Archdeacon of Canterbury in which, after praying God's blessing on the new edifice, he advocated international arbitration as proposed by President Taft.

The cathedral is the largest ecclesiastical structure in the country, and the fourth largest in Christendom. Although only partially constructed, it has already been twenty years in building, at a cost of $3,500,000 and it may take as much longer to complete it, at a total estimated cost of $10,000,000.

Seating accommodations are now provided for about 1,700 persons, but although consecrated for present use, four-fifths of the work remains to be done, and the full capacity will approach 7,000. At present the interior walls stand in great part as they were laid, in jutting tiers of rough granite; the vaulted roof of the crossing is only a makeshift of terra-cotta to be torn down later; the arches from which the transcepts will spread are blocked with temporary concrete baffles; the flooring itself is but a cement bed on which the mosaics will pet be superimposed; only a hint of the full glory appears;—and yet so noble is the harmony of the ample dimensions, and so rich the promise of fulfillment, that the fragmant opened to the public today is itself an invitation to worship.

"How has his mighty undertaking been financed?" asks Cannon Robert Ellis Jones. "By the same devotion of sacrifice," he answers, "which actuated the best of the mediaeval cathedral builders. The cathedral has no official source of revenue. No organized effort has been made to draw on the interest of Episcopalians, and yet gifts of all sizes have flowed in, from all quarters. Five dollars come every year from a seamstress up the Hudson. The inmate librarian of a city refuge gave one-tenth of his salary, and a dozen old men in a church home earned by making nets and hammocks $250, which they begged might be 'built into the cathedral.'"

A revenue thus derived in advance, but bequests are now known which, as they mature, will be sufficient to insure continued progress. The choir is now roofed and partly cased with the limestone which will later finish the entire interior. The eight giant columns, each 65 feet high, exclusive of the capitals, which cluster about the altar, between the ambulatory and the chancel, are in place, with the names carved upon them of those whom their donors wish to commemorate. Two of the seven chapels in the apse of the chancel have been completed, and with them their stained glass windows. These are the gifts of August Belmont and Mrs. Edward King. Seven tapestries depicting sacred subjects and woven originally for Pope Adrain VII in 1630, at Rome, already hang in the spaces between the windows of the apse and the full complement will add three more. The organ and carved choir stalls, the gift of Levi P. Morton, are in place. The great crossing at the intersection of the nave and the transcepts, designed for the main assembling place of the congregation, is roofed over, and with the unfinished transcepts and the nave shut in from the weather by concrete screens the remaining wing and work on the lentern and towers above can go on without annoyance to worshippers, each finished unit to be thrown open upon the main body of the edifice as it becomes ready for use.

In style the cathedral is late Romanesque, with strong traces of Byzantine influences, or as the architect in chief, C. Grant LaFargo, a son of the late John LaFargo, describes it, "so far as the cathedral in the larger sense is Gothic, it is the Gothic of a very early period; the time of transition from the simple Romanesque to the more complex organism." Nowhere is the constructive scheme based on the pointed arch. The mystery of long vistas down dim, pillared aisles has been exchanged for the solemn grandeur of a great central crossing, wherein the congregation may mass within sound of the preacher's voice, lighted from above by a domed lantern of sixteen windows, surmounted in turn by a central tower.

The site is the most commanding in the city, on what once was the battlefield of Harlem Heights, overlooking the main plain of Manhattan, the Hudson River, and Long Island Sound. It occupies three city blocks, bounded by 110th and 113th streets to North and South, and Morningside Drive and Amsterdam Avenue to East

GUDGER REPLIES TO HIS COLLEAGUE

Defends His Position on Reciprocity Against the Onslaughts of Kitchin.

HE DOESN'T LIKE THE COMPANY

(By H. E. C. Bryant.)

Washington, D. C., April 19.—Representative Gudger replied to Mr. Kitchin today. "This country," said Mr. Gudger, "demands tariff revision but not personal criticism. I must confess that I was greatly surprised at Mr. Kitchin's criticising the attitude and impugning the motive of three of his North Carolina colleagues. I shall not criticise him for voting with Mr. Payne, the Republican leader and Mr. Crumpacker, the man who has done more than any other on the floor of this house to try to humiliate the South by force bills.

"Yet these three men," he said, "Messrs. Payne, Crumpacker and Kitchin, met together on a measure, two calling it a Republican measure and one calling it a Democratic measure. It will be a grand picture to see them marching together.

"Where did this bill come from?

"The White House.

"Who introduced it?, Mr. McCall, a Massachusetts Republican.

"The Democrats have not had the pleasure of crossing a 'T' or dotting an 'I.' If the leaders will show me where they wrote one word in it I will vote for it.

"But it is immaterial to me whether the Democrats or Republicans introduced it. I am here to legislate for the American people.

"Is this bill fair? Is it just? I say that it is not.

"I contend that it is not a Democratic measure. I am chided because I will not vote for it. The Democratic handbook of 1902 denounced this sort of proposition. It said it was a scheme to save protection and stave off real tariff revision. Blaine said it is the handpad of protection. William Walton Kitchin, Senator Carmack and Governor Harmon helped to put the reciprocity plank in the platform of 1902.

"This bill discriminates against the farmer. I thing it is a trust bill. Its promoters tell city people that it will reduce the cost of living and country people that it will not reduce the prices of farm products. I do not believe that it will reduce the cost of living but that it will hurt the farmer.

"Vance and Ransom did not believe that the tariff on farm products was a humbug. I do not see how any one could think this treaty is fair. Therefore, I shall vote against it."

Mr. Underwood gave Mr. Gudger 15 minutes of his time.

The North Carolina delegation has not yet recovered its equilibrium. The rocks that Claude Kitchin flung about the camp made the boys hop about. Gudger is feeling fierce about it. So is Webb, and, perhaps, Doughton. About ten Democrats in the House will not vote for the Underwood bill. There are three Tar Heels, four Buckeyes, one Minnesotan, and three Louisianas, and perhaps others. The party lash in the Old North State has not driven Webb, Gudger and Dougton back on the reservation. In the meantime Claude Kitchin, the idol of a drove of Democrats, moves among his fellows smiling. Some people are cussing him of making medicine for his brother's campaign against Senator Simmons but those who know the God of Halifax believe that he likes not a dull time. No matter what he likes he has made three stubborn insurgents. Webb is the Victor Murdock of the Democratic side. He has the red hair and the grit.

"I am opposed to Canadian reciprocity and shall vote against it," said Representative Doughton today. "It was not an issue in my campaign, and it is now pressed by leading Republicans of the Taft, Mann, McCall, Lodge and Crumpacker school. A Democrat should feel free to vote as his judgment dictates and a majority of his constitutents desire him to do so. Letters received from every county in my district lead me to believe that my constitutents oppose the measure as offered.

"They tell me that reciprocity is a cardinal principle of the Democratic party. This may be true but sham reciprocity has been condemned in our platforms. It is argued by the advocates of this measure that it will not reduce the products of the farm, but will lower the cost of living. Such a thing is impossible. It is a sham, or it will hurt. Cattle, hogs, and other stock are on the free list but meats, meat products and the like handled bp the beef trust are protected."

Mr. Doughton is very emphatic. He thinks his constitutents are with him.

ATTACK ON RECIPROCITY BILL

Former Speaker Cannon Declares the Measure Is Dangerous to American Trade—"A Tammany and Dixie Combination."

Washington, April 19. — Former Speaker Cannon, Representatives Gudger, of North Carolina; Hanna, of North Dakota; Nelson, of Wisconsin, and Sloan, of Nebraska, attacked the Canadian reciprocity agreement in the debate on the reciprocity bill in the House today.

Mr. Cannon, fortified by a large map of the United Staaes and Canada, played the role of schoolmaster to a crowded floor and filled galleries. Mr. Cannon attacked the proposed agreement as dangerous to American trade, inimical to the best interests of American farmers and certain to result in depreciation of American farm lands.

Representative Gudger characterized the bill as a Republican measure. He attacked his colleague, Representative Claude Kitchin for his speech of Saturday, declaring Mr. Kitchin was marching side by side with the Republican leaders and that he had impugned the motives of at least three members of the North Carolina Democratic delegation, who proposed to vote against the measure.

Mr. Sloan referred to the House supporters of the reciprocity bill as a "Tammany and Dixie combination against the welfare of the country."

The general debate on the reciprocity measure will continue tomorrow, but Chairman Underwood, of the Ways and Means Committee, will endeavor to get the bill before the House under the five minute rule before adjournment.

MADISON DENTIST GUILTY.

Had No Authority to Write Prescriptions for Whiskey.

Greensboro, N. C., April 19.—In ruling that J. O. Roach, a prominent dentist of Madison, N. C., was guilty of a violation of the State prohibition laws, Recorder Hastings, of the City Court of Winston-Salem, N. C., today held that a dentist was neither a practicing physician nor a surgeon, and, therefore, not eligible to write prescriptions for whiskey. A fine of $25 and costs was imposed.

Under the prohibition laws of North Carolina the sale of whiskey is placed entirely in the hands of physicians, and today's ruling stops dentists from enjoying a privilege that has until now been practiced without question.

SEGREGATION OF NEGROES.

Ordinance Becomes a Law in Richmond—Approved by Mayor.

Richmond, Va., April 19.—Mayor Richardson today approved the Von Delher ordinance providing for the domiciliary segregation of the colored people of the city, thus making it a law.

Along with it goes an ordinance, as yet incomplete, providing for the annexation of territory to the negro quarter, and the furnishing of sewerage, lights and other improvements necessary to health and comfort, so that there need be no undue crowding of the colored population.

Norfolk, Va., April 19.—The steamer Charlotte, which formerly ran between Norfolk and Baltimore, and recently sold to New England parties, passed out Cape Henry today for Boston, where she will be delivered to her new owners.

THE FARMER'S BILL IS NOW REPORTED

Action of Ways and Means Committee on Measure to the House.

PROPOSED DUTY EXEMPTIONS

Would Reduce Tariff Revenue $10,016,495 Based on Importations of Last Fiscal Year—Rates Now Too High.

Washington, April 19.—The majority report of the Ways and Means Committee on the so-called farmers' free list bill, submitted to the House today by Chairman Underwood, is a merger of Democratic political argument and an analysis of the proposed duty exemptions.

The report shows that the bill would reduce the tariff revenue $10,016,495, based on the importations for the last fiscal year, an amount described as "inconsiderable in comparison with the great saving and advantages to all of our people from the additions to the free list provided for." Quoting President Taft's recent Canadian reciprocity speeches, the report seeks to convey the impression that the administration is convinced that protective tariff rates are too high.

"In several public addresses," it says, "he (the President) has admitted that tariff rates are too high, that such rates have resulted in excessively high prices felt especially in the increased cost of living which now bears heavily on our people, and that they have not received the long promised benefits of domestic competition under high protective duties."

Referring to the President's statement that the Republican party had modified its tariff policy so as to limit it for purposes of protection to the difference in cost of production here and abroad with a reasonable profit to the American producer, the committee report says:

"This is a confession, as was the Republican platform of 1908, that the theory of high protective duties, as put forth by the Republican party has broken down, that combinations and trusts which prey upon the people have been fostered by the tariff, and that under tariff protection American manufacturers have forced unreasonable profits from the people."

Again the report declares: "The Canadian reciprocity agreement now before the House is a recognition on the part of the administration of the injurious effects of the extreme protective policy which has so long been imposed upon the country, and is an effort to mitigate its effects."

The reciprocity agreement, the committee asserts, cannot afford the American people all the needed relief from high prices. "Action on the agreement involves the necessity of further and immediate action in removing a number of duties on imports from other countries in order that justice may be done to the great army of agricultural producers, who, in the Canadian agreement, are to have all the alleged protection removed from their products without a corresponding or reciprocal removal of the protective duties most burdensome on the commodities they must purchase as necessary to sustain their lives and industries."

The report takes up in detail the classified list of articles included in the free list bill. Regarding agricultural implements, it says their manufacture is controlled by trusts and combinations that have sold in foreign countries at lower prices than at home, building up their foreign trade from $3,859,184 in 1890, to $28,124,033 in 1910.

Bagging and baling materials, essential in the transportation af agricultural products, the report says, cannot receive benefits of protection in home markets and duties on them "have annoyed and burdened the farmers to add to the profits of exacting trusts and combinations."

Concerning hoops, bands and ties of iron and steel, barbed wire for fencing, etc., the report says the high duties make the people dependent upon the "giant steel industry" which for years has sold products abroad lower than to domestic consumers, and declares that placing them on the free list will be a "long delayed measure of equity and justice."

The placing on the free list of all forms of leather from cattle hides and skins, together with boots, shoes, harness, saddlery, etc., the committee argues, will be of advantage in manufacturing and necessarily of benefit to agricultural producers as well as to all the people.

The "beef trust" is assailed in discussion of the free listing of fresh meats and meat products. "The existing duties on meats and meat products," it is asserted, "are for the advantage of this combination only"—a combination that "controls the markets both in buying and selling, and the result is a substantial addition to the high cost of living from which the people suffer."

Removal of duties on these products, it is argued, will place the farmers in a free market as to food stuffs and food products. For the reason that the public desire "that no artificial shelter shall be maintained to protect abnormally high prices on food

EDUCATORS OF SOUTH GATHER

Jacksonville, Fla., April 19.—Robert C. Ogden, of New York, president of the Conference on Education in the South, delivered his annual address at tonight's session of the conference, which began a three days' convention here today.

He took for his subject "Rural Co-Operation," on which speeches were made also by Count Carl Moltke, of Denmark; Dr. Hollis B. Frissell, principal of Hampton Institute, Virginia, and Dr. John Lee Collner, of the Department of Agriculture. Count Moltke's address was an illustrated lecture on the co-operative movement in Denmark and the benefits to be derived from it by the United States.

The conference convened with about 500 delegates present representing every part of the South. The principal speaker was Dr. Paul Ritter, Swiss minister to the United States. The conference will be in session through Friday.

What education can do for the commercial prosperity of a country, was the subject on which Dr. Ritter addressed the Conference. He used his own country as an illustration.

Switzerland supports a population of 3,700,000, although in size, is less than one-third as large as the State of Florida, the minister declared, attributing the general prosperity which prevails throughout his country to the wide diffusion of education.

"Switzerland in physical respects," he said, "is not a bountiful motherland, neither the climate nor soil is favorable for agriculture, yet it is surprising what good results are obtained through the general diffusion among the agricultural classes of much technical information, susceptible of easy apprehension and ready application." In other lines of work the same holds true, he asserted.

"The Swiss government and people recognized early," he continued, "that in a healthy and progressive condition of commerce lies one of the greatest safeguards of social peace and contentment and they have made great sacrifices in the cause of education generally, in order that even if some of the children must start out in life burdened with poverty, they shall not also be burdened with ignorance."

After reviewing the educational opportunities of the country, Dr. Ritter called attention to "their direct result, successful commerce." In no other country of Europe, he said, is there so large a per capita trade. "The commerce of Spain, for instance," he added, with a population six times greater than that of Switzerland, is smaller than that of the Swiss confederation, as also the amount of commerce of Japan. These facts are all the more striking when we remember that Switzerland possesses none of the natural advantages of other countries." The total imports and exports of the country in 1910 amounted to $582,000,000 as against $389,000,000 ten years previously.

"As a whole we may say," the speaker declared, "that the Swiss education produces practical men, able to turn their hands, and with success, to different things. I myself have encountered them everywhere, all over the world, and here in the United States more than 200,000 of my countrymen are living. Nearly all of them are successful, some as the heads of important commercial and industrial enterprises, others in business and many as teachers, farmers and artisans.

"Switzerland has contributed no small part to the solution of the questions of popular education. It has long had as its peculiar mission pedagogical reform. Not only did it give to the world the greatest thinker in this domain, Rousseau, but also some of the greatest workers, Pestalozzi, Father Girard, Fellenberg and others. The efforts of these men were of a tentative cnaracter but they contained the seed out of which a rich harvest was to grow; they opened the great book of knowledge; they were possessed by the splendid social idea which is at the root of all true culture and which is the radical principle of the Swiss Republic.

"Education in Switzerland has neither class nor sex restriction and, therefore, the country, in its desire for truly popular education early opened the doors of its universities to women. In almost every town and village the primary schools are attended by the children of the rich and poor alike without distinction. In Switzerland there is no class of vagrant or destitute children which the ordinary school system fails to reach; and the visitor may see side by side an orphan who is fed and clothed by the Commune and the son of a rich man, both receiving the same instruction, each being under precisely the same discipline.

"It will be easily understood, therefore, that the Swiss parent looks upon the school house not merely as the place where his children are fitted for making their way in the world, but as a political nursery where many of those doctrines cherished by the staunch republicans are developed and fostered among the younger generation.

"The value placed upon education is further evidenced by the fact that the sum appropriated therefore is more than twice as large as that disbursed for military purposes; and yet the Swiss military service was adopted a few years ago as a model by Richard B. Haldane, the English Secretary of War, for the reorganization of the forces known as the British territorial forces.

"At the present time technical schools and institutions of all grades are a goodly array. They are situated exactly where they are wanted, having been established to meet local needs."

A PLEA TO BREAK THE SOLID SOUTH

Secretary MacVeagh's Stirring Address to South Carolina Bankers.

URGES A TWO PARTY SYSTEM

Declares Such Would Add to Immovable Foundation of Our Perfect Union—Spoke Only as a Citizen.

Summerville, S. C., April 19.—Secretary MacVeagh, speaking before the South Carolina Bankers' Association here tonight, made a plea to the Southern States to break from one party rule and become bi-partisan in their politics for their own good.

"I do not speak as a Republican," said he. "I am a member of the Republican party; and I am a member of it because I believe in it. I was a member of the Democratic party during Cleveland's time and I was a member of it because I believed in it. But my interest in bi-partisan politics is not the interest of a party man, but is the interest of a citizen—of an American citizen. I want you to believe that my interest in seeing the South under a two-party system is wholly independent of the question whether one party or the other shall prevail.

"If the South were alone concerned, bi-party government everywhere would still be a matter of sincere aspiration to me. But it is in the interest of the North and the South alike that I look forward to a time very near when the party unanimity of the South shall be invaded as it has been invaded in the North by the converting influx of an active and powerful bi-party sentiment.

"I know how long it has taken to ameliorate the situation thrust upon the South by the errors of certain features of the reconstruction measures adopted by the North. I realize, as vast numbers of Northern people realize the problem thrust upon you and with which you have wrestled for many years. I do not say that in dealing with these extraordinary conditions you have in every instance found the very best way. What people dealing with vital and complex problems have in every instance found the very best way? Self preservation is a stern responsibility. It does not always admit of the nicest discriminations.

"I am a particular friend of the colored race. And I have always wondered that we of the North should have believed that it was good for that race to suddenly load them down in their unprepared condition with a full share of the responsibility of government. And I have always realized the happiness of the North in its exemption from the tremendous problems of the people of the South. But happily, time has mainly worked the needed reparations; and as I conceive it the South has arrived, at any rate, at a time when it is practicable to have that great necessity of party government—two equal parties. And I know no greater political boon than that opportunity and privilege; and I know no greater deprivation that has come to the South out of reconstruction days than the necessity of trying to live under party government with only one party.

"The independent voter means the political emancipation of society. And it does not mean at all hurtful detachment from party nor loss of essential party fealty. It does include, however, a higher fealty as well—a fealty of ideas—to policies, to principles and to country, the only final support of party government.

"With the same parties established everywhere—North and South—and everywhere marshalling and dividing the people on the same lines of thought and action, the last stone will have been added to the immovable foundations of our perfect union."

VICTIM OF OWN HEROISM.

Man Gave His Life in Attempt to Rescue Negro From Sewer.

Norfolk, Va., April 19.—A special to the Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch from Charleston, S. C., today says:

H. Guy Brown, of Norfolk, died here early today, the victim of his own heroism. Yesterday afternoon he attempted to rescue a negro boy from a sewer where the lad was overcome with gas, and he himself was fatally affected by the fumes.

Dr. Blakeley, a medical student from Greenville, volunteered to go down into the manhole and bring up both Brown and Joseph Freer, the colored boy. He did so with serious injury to himself, tying a rope about both bodies, to be drawn to the street surface.

Mr. Brown was living when rescued, and taken to a hospital 50 yards from the scene of the accident. Hours of labor failed to revive him and he died early this morning. The colored boy died in the sewer.

Brown, who was 28 years old, was the son of Mrs. J. W. Brown, of Hampton, Va., and a brother of A. Gordon Brown, of Texas, and Dr. John W. Brown, of Hampton.

MARATHON RACE IN BOSTON.

DeMar Won and Made a New Record Yesterday

Boston, April 19.—Clarence F. DeMar, of the North Dorchester, Mass., Athletic Association, a young, but experienced runner, won the Boston Athletic Association's 15th marathon race today, and established a new record for the 25 miles of rolling road, of two hours, 21 minutes, 39 3-5 seconds. The previous record, two hours, 24 minutes, 24 seconds, was made by Tom Longboat, four years ago.

F. J. Madden, of South Boston, was second, only missing getting inside the record through an accident; Ed Fabore, of Montreal, was a poor third, and Robert J. Fowler, of Cambridge, a close fourth.

The weather was ideal, the roads were perfect and the runners in splendid trim. More than 200,000 people witnessed the contest.

DeMar and James J. Corkery, of Toronto, were the favorites in the field of 143 entries, but the latter collapsed three miles from the finish and was carried in. Thirty-six runners finished inside of three hours.

WILMINGTON AND GOLDSBORO.

Doubleheader Here Saturday Afternoon Between High Schools.

Baseball interest locally just now is centered in a doubleheader baseball game between the Goldsboro and Wilmington High Schools in this city Saturday afternoon of this week. Both teams are in fine fettle and a hard contest is expected. The admission will be only 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children. The local team is hard at practice each day and are very hopeful of talking both ends of the doubleheader from the visitors.

San Antonio, Texas, April 19. — The big maneuvers camp at Fort Sam Houston is daily being made more permanent. The troops have resigned themselves to the belief there will be actual service, and are settling down for a long stay. Company kitchens and messes are housed in frame structures with walls and roofs of canvas, and with screens. Improvised sidewalks are building and supplies are accumulating.

A GLOOM OVER FANDOM.

Heavy Rains May Interfere With Opening Game Today.

Pittsburg, April 19.—Heavy rains drenching Forbes' Field all day and up to past midnight has cast a gloom over Fandom and there is poor prospect for the opening of the ball season here tomorrow with the game between Pittsburg and Cincinnati. Although the infield has been covered with a huge canvass all day, the outfield, which has recently been filled in, is in poor condition.

Notwithstanding this, the sale of seats has been heavier at the downtown ticket selling depots, while the mail orders have swamped a corps of clerks. All the boxes too are gone, and tonight the report is "sold out." Despite the rain the weather man predicts cooler weather and clearing.

RIFLE PRACTICE AT RALEIGH.

Rain interrupted shooting this afternoon and if it should rain so tomorrow shooting cannot be completed, there will be special order for another day of it. Quite a number of men scored today as high as 42 and 43 out of a possible 50.

HEAD OF TWO FAMILIES.

Unusual Case of Chicago Man Who Died Suddenly.

Chicago, April 19.—Two men met today at the inquest over Michael H. Ahern, 83 years old, a former real estate dealer of Creston, Ia., and learned that Ahern for 50 years had been the father of two large families, neither of which knew the existence of the other.

At the inquest each of the two men stepped forward an identified the body as that of his father. A conversation between the two convinced both, however, that each was right.

Ahern died suddenly at a Chicago hotel on Tuesday. The sons who met today for the first time are William Ahern, 60 years old, who lives in Chicago, and Matthew Ahern, of Creston, Ia., 40 years old. William Ahern declared his father had left a wife with four small children in Ireland 50 years ago and had come to America. The younger man taking up the story said his father had married in Galesburg, Ill., in 1865, and seven children had been born, all but one of whom still are living in Illinois and Iowa. His mother, he said, had been dead for nine years.

The elder man then told of coming to America with his mother who still is living, after the four children had become of age, and finding the father in Chicago. Ahern divided his time between the two families, keeping each in ignorance of the other.

DENIAL FROM HARLEY.

Says He was Not Conspiracy in Formation of Sugar Trust.

New York, April 19. — Robert B. Hawley, one of the individual defendants in the government's suit for the dissolution of the American Sugar Refining Company, today filed an answer in the United States Circuit Court, denying that he was concerned in the conspiracy charged in the formation of the alleged trust.

He denied that the Cuban-American Sugar Company was organized for the purpose of combining several competing corporations engaged in the manufacture of raw sugar in Cuba and shipping it to this country. The answer, however, admitted that the Cuban-American Company, with an authorized capital stock of $20,000,000, obtained the properties of five sugar companies in Cuba and issued in exchange therefor shares of its own stock.

Mr. Hawley denied that the American Sugar Refining Company had dominated with the Cuban-American Company or exercised control over raw sugar, shipped from Cuba into the United States.

WOMAN SMUGGLER REFUNDS.

Tells Treasury How to Relieve Many a Restless Soul of Burden.

Washington, April 19.—A woman smuggler, conscience-stricken, sent to Secretary MacVeagh today a ten dollar bill with the suggestion that the Treasury invite contributions of that sort and relieve many a restless soul of a burden.

The woman signing herself "L. D." wrote from Baltimore, saying she had smuggled some dutiable goods when her conscience was not so well educated. "You can help many 'born smugglers' to atone for misdeeds if you will show them how to refund," she wrote.

Contributions to the fund of "conscience" on the treasury's books, begun in 1811, now totals $420,000.

Hartford, Conn., April 19. — Announcement was made here today of the organization of the Hartford School of Missions, which will open next September as an inter-denominational institution for giving special mission preparation to foreign missionaries. Trustees and Several Committees Met at Goldsboro—The Institution.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Odd Fellows' Orphan Home, Goldsboro, N. C., April 19.—The annual meeting of the board of trustees of the Home was held here Tuesday. Every member of the board was present, including Grand Master Frank D. Hackett, of North Wilkesboro.

Questions of vital importance to the Home were taken up and discussed, among these being the question of establishing a school at the Home. It will be remembered the school board of the public schools of Goldsboro has decided that they can no longer accept the children from the Home because of the great number and the expense to which they will be put by accepting them free of charge. It was the agreement of the city before the Home was established here that the children should be allowed to attend the public schools of the city free of charge, and they have carried out this agreement up to the present year. The superintendent of the city schools and the chairman of the school board were present and the whole question was discussed pro and con. The school board wants $10 a head for every child that is in school for the present year, but the board would not grant it. The matter will be submitted to the Grand Lodge in session next month at Winston-Salem when the question comes up for discussion. Plans for a school building on the Home grounds were submitted, and it was pretty generally agreed that the original building which was considerably damaged by fire some months ago, be remodeled and fitted up for use. All this, however, will have to go before the Grand Lodge.

Another matter that was discussed very freely was that of procuring more land for the purpose of supplying the growing demand for some method by which the children would be furnished a source of employment. The board at present has an option on four different pieces of fine farm land land which they are considering. One site, which adjoins the present premises, is offered for $8,900; another for $10,000; another for $7,500, and still another for $6,500. The trustees, it is understood, will ask the Grand Lodge for permission to purchase one of these plots for the use of the Home.

Ways and means for raising money to meet the growing demand for funds to run the Home and carry on the improvements were discussed. One method was the putting on the road of a singing class which is to tour the State. The plan of raising the per capita tax of the individual members of the order was offered, as was also the plan of making each lodge pay the expenses of its representatives at the Grand Lodge. These matters are to be discussed at the Grand Lodge.

The Finance Committee of the Grand Lodge, composed of George Green, Newbern; William L. Smith, Wilmington, and Hugh Parks, Jr., of Franklinton, was also in session at the time, and the reports of the Grand Treasurer, Superintendent of the Orphan Home, and the Visiting Committee of the Rebekahs were received.

The expenses of the Home for the fiscal year ending March 31st, 1911, amounted to $13,933.22. There has been an average of 159 people here during the year, costing on an average of $7.30 per child for one month, or $87.60 per year. Including all the officers and helpers, and the three people at the Old Folks' Home, there are 169 people at the Home now being supported by the Odd Fellows of the State. There have been 12 applications passed upon recently for admission and there are several others pending. Mr. H. H. Howard, of Oxford, has been admitted to the Old Folks' Home. He is a survivor of the battle of the Monitor and Merrimac, being a member of the crew that manned the Merrimac in the famous conflict.

D. A. R. ELECTION TODAY.

Both Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Story in the Race Again.

Washington, April 19.—On the eve of the biennial election of President General and other National officers of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the center of activity among the delegates to the Congress of the society shifted tonight from Continental Hall to the lobbies of the hotels — where the members of the organization are stopping.

Merely a handful of Daughters were in the auditorium of Continental Hall tonight to hear reports from committees. Instead, most of them were trying to win votes for their respective candidates. Much doubt exists as to whether Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, of Illinois, who won the President-Generalcy two years ago by a narrow margin over Mrs. William C. Story, of New York, or whether Mrs. Story, again a candidate, will be elected. Both sides claim sufficient votes to elect their candidates. In addition to a President-General, there are to be elected tomorrow a Vice-President-General, in charge of organization of chapters, and ten other Vice-President-Generals, and other officers.

AFTER GRIP.

Look Out for Trouble.

The after-affects of the Grip are apt to be serious but a normal healthy condition may be restored in a surprisingly short time by Vinol.

Watertown, Wis.—"After a severe attack of the Grippe my system was in a very weakened, nervous and run-down condition. I began taking Vinol with the very best results and in a short time I began to feel like an entirely different person and I am better and stronger than I have been for years." Adelaide Gamm. (We guarantee this testimonial to be genuine.)

We have never sold in our store such a valuable strength creator and health restorer for the convalescent, the weak and run-down as Vinol, and we ask people in this vicinity to try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that their money will be returned if it does not do all we claim for it. —Robt. WHITEVILLE NEWS NOTES.

Court About Completed—Strawberry Movement—Other Items.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., April 19.—With the trial of one more case the criminal business of court will be over, when Solicitor Sinclair will return to Fayetteville. Judge Cooke is winning golden opinions from our people by his able exposition of the law and impartial rulings.

Judge Lyon came to Whiteville last Sunday, traveling over a hundred miles, to see his little grandson, who is so very sick. The child is some better.

There have arrived 14 more Italian laborerse at Makatoka, and there is renewed railroad talk.

Mrs. Rebecca Williamson, an aged and respected lady near Cerro Gordo, died Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Floyd, of Gallivant's Ferry, S. C., father of the young man who was killed at Tabor, was in Whiteville Tuesday. Mr. Floyd says his wife is in a serious condition, being heart-broken and completely prostrated over the death of their beloved son. He fears she will never recover from the shock.

Reports from Chadbourn indicate that the long looked-for strawberry crop, which is late on account of cold weather, will be well under way the first of next week. Up to this writing a total of three solid cars have been moved, two to Boston and one to Philadelphia. All berries are coming from Tabor, with the exception of a few from Clarendon. Of course, there have been a few hundred crates by express but solid cars should move from now on. Two cars were on track at Chadbourn the 18th for loading.

The estimate for the Chadbourn section made by the railroad and refrigerators is for a total of 920 cars, or it is expected that the movement will be greater this year than last by between 50 and 75 cars. The week ending May 6th, should be the banner week, but it is expected that berries will be moving until probably June 1st.

A report appeared in the New York "Pink Sheet", a produce paper published in that city, last week, to the effect that the Carolina Fruit Exchange had sold out to the North American Fruit Exchange. On inquiry at the office of the Carolina Fruit Exchange at Chadbourn as to the reliability this report, it develops that the report is not only untrue but unwarranted, and Exchange people state is a story given out by people who are antagonistic to the movement on the part of our farmers to co-operate for their mutual benefit.

AFFAIRS AT RALEIGH.

Governor Speech Making—Wedding at Christ's Church—Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., April 19.—Governor Kitchin went today to Liberty, Randolph county, to deliver an address in connection with the closing of the schools there. The Governor is filling quite a number of engagements of this kind now and the calls for such service are increasing steadily with the advance of the height of the school commencement season.

Matters pertaining to the North Carolina Railroad Co., as leased to the Southern, have been engaging the attention of Governor Kitchin and the State's representatives in the management of this valuable property, controlled by the State, for several days past. President Benehan Cameron, Secretary-Treasurer A. H. Eller, R. F. McNinch, Charlotte, and others have held conferences in the executive office the past few days. There is no official statement save that routine matters are involved.

A charter was issued today for the North Carolina Mercantile Co., Asheville, capital $30,000, J. E. Craddock and others.

Prominent Baptists here including Editor Hight C. Moore, of the Biblical Recorder, have gone to Statesville for the annual convention of the North Carolina Baptist Young People's Union in session there this week.

This evening at 6:30 o'clock there was a wedding of special social interest in Christ Episcopal Church, Miss Janet Dortch being the bride, and Mr. George E. Dix, the bridegroom. Bishop Robert Strange, of Wilmington, officiated. There were many visitors from New York, Pittsburg, Chicago and elsewhere and the church was thronged with relatives and interested friends. The bride is a daughter of the late Col. Isaac Dortch and her grandfather was a member of the Confederate Congress. Mr. Dix is connected with the Carnegie Steel Works and is a nephew of Gen. C. A. Woodruff, U. S. A., of this city.

YOUNG MAN SUICIDED.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Newbern, N. C., April 19.—Herbert Edmondson, a young white man aged 24 years, an employe in the machine shops of the John L. Roper Lumber Co., died last night at the Stewart Sanatorium from the effects of a dose of bichloride of mercury taken several days ago with suicidal intent. He stated that he took a whole bottle of the tablets and although doctors were called in at once they were unable to save him. The remains were shipped this morning to Robersonville, N. C., his home.

Card From Mr. Jones.

Wilmington, N. C., April 19, 1911.

To the Editor:—I desire to express, through your columns, my sincere appreciation for the support given me by my friends in the primary yesterday. Many of those who have so greatly assisted me throughout the race for Councilman are among the best citizens of this community, and it is needless to say that I feel a just pride in the confidence they have placed in me. The vote cast for me, which compared favorably with that cast for older and more astute politicians, affords me much encouragement, especially as the support given me came through the assistance of friends and without solicitation on my part.

Yours truly,

W. F. JONES.

DR. PRATT AN OFFICER.

In National Association of Shell Fish Commission.

Baltimore, April 19.—At today's session of the National Association of Shell Fish Commissioners, which is holding its annual convention here, officers were elected for the ensuing years as follows:

President—Dr. George Fields, commissioner of fish and game of Massachusetts.

Secretary—Swepson Eale, of Maryland, (re-election).

Treasurer—Dr. Tarleton H. Bean, State fish culturist, of New York.

A discussion was precipitated when a proposition was made to restrict the membership of the association to shell fish commissioners only excluding engineers, biologists and bacteriologists to the associate membership. It was suggested that the association was formed primarily for State officers interested in shell fisheries and that engineers, bacteriologists and biologists should not be active members under the constitution. The matter was finally defeated and these three professions will be admitted to the organization on active membership tickets.

The convention ended with a banquet tonight. Tomorrow the delegates will be given an excursion down Chesapeake Bay.

FATAL STORM IN KENTUCKY.

Swept Over Central Part of State—Engineer Was Victim.

Lexington, Ky., April 19.—One person was killed, several others were severely injured and large property damage was wrought by a wind and rain storm that swept over central Kentucky today.

At Cynthiana W. P. O'Neal, a railroad engineer, was killed in the cab of a locomotive by a huge tree that was blown on the cab.

At Maysville and other points houses were unroofed, and a number of persons were caught in the wreckage.

Galveston, Texas, April 19.—Orders were issued today to the entire First brigade at Camp Crockett to prepare to break camp early tomorrow for a twelve-mile hike down the beach and for field maneuvers. It will be the first movement of the troops as a brigade since they were mobilized. Blank ammunition has been issued and surprise maneuver problems are planned. The troops will return to camp on Saturday.

DON'T PULL OUT THE GRAY HAIRS

"Pull out one gray hair and a dozen will take its place," is an old saying, which is, to a great extent, true, if no steps are taken to stop the cause. When gray hairs appear it is a sign that Nature needs asisstance. It is Nature's call for help. Gray hair, dull, lifeless hair, or hair that is falling out, is not necessarily a sign of advancing age, for there are thousands of elderly people with perfect heads of hair without a single streak of gray.

When gray hairs come, or when the hair seems to be lifeless or dead, some good, reliable hair restoring treatment should be resorted to at once. Specialists say that one of the best preparations to use is the old-fashioned "sage tea," which our grandparents used. The best preparation of this kind is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation of domestic sage and sulphur, scientifically compounded with later discovered hair tonics and stimulants, the whole mixture being carefully balanced and tested by experts.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is clean and wholesome and perfectly harmless. It refreshes dry, parched hair, removes dandruff and gradually restores faded or gray hair to its natural color.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and cold by all druggists. Special Agent: J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., Front and Grace streets.

S.S.S. THE BEST SPRING TONIC

Spring is the season when the blood is weakest, and our systems least responsive to the demands of nature. It is the time of fickle appetites, poor digestion, lack of energy, bodily fatigue, and many other systemic disturbances which warn us that we need a tonic. A great many so called tonics are mere nerve stimulants, often producing exhilarating effects, but acting with decided injury on the system later. If your system is weak and depleted you can only tone it up by supplying an increased amount of nourishment, and this can come only through pure, rich blood. S. S. S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers; and it is the one medicine you can rely upon to supply the system with the best tonic effects and at the same time thoroughly purify the blood. Many people have put off using a tonic until the system became so weakened it could not resist disease, and have paid for the neglect with a spell of debilitating sickness. S. S. S. is nature's ideal tonic, made entirely of healthful roots, herbs and barks. It tones up the stomach and digestion, aids and improves the appetite, and in every way contributes to strong, robust health. S. S. S. is for sale at drug stores.

Published by the
WILMINGTON STAR COMPANY, INC.,

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., under Act of Congress, March 2nd, 1874.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate, and like matter, will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, or if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper.

Advertisements discontinued before expiration of contracts are charged transient rates for time actually published. Payment for transient advertisements must be cash in advance. Contract advertisers will not be allowed to exceed their space at same rates or advertise anything foreign to their regular business without extra charge. Advertisements to occupy special place will be charged for according to position desired.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

Thursday, April 20, 1911.

What kind of a shoe suits the foot of the table?

Men without tact nammer everything in sight.

No Indian was ever prosecuted for adulterating firewater with drinking water.

Disappointment of a man's anticipation and his ambition is something different.

We don't think much of this April so far. It only has ten more days in which to redeem itself, and then comes the bill collector.

When a politician makes a speech it must be taken in consideration that he looks on the present and keeps an eye on the future. He does both at the same time.

The Mexican insurgents should know that Uncle Sam can't stand for insurgents unless they "stand up as one man" and have a canal zone which he needs in his business.

The woman mayor of Hunnewell, Kas., has appointed a woman chief of police of that town. The mayor will make the chief sit up nights telling her about what she picks up on her rounds.

The Chattanooga Times remarks: "An illustrator came to Chattanooga to find pretty faces." Of course, he found plentp of them, but we'll bet he didn't bother himself about the cheek on display in 'Nooga.

Mr. Donnelley, a Pennsylvania Democrat, offers to give Governor Wilson the support of that State for President. Offers like that disclose the identity of the individuals who fancy they carry the Democratic party in their pocket.

A contemporary remarks that few people knew who was our ambassador to Germany till Mr. Hill threw down the job. Of course, no ambassador can hope to be known unless he gives publicity to himself. Advertising is everything now-a-days.

A few years ago a negro risked his life to save two white men. In Charleston on Tuesday the heroism was reversed by two white men who tried to save a negro who was overcome by gas when entering a sewer manhold. The negro lost his life, both white men were almost asphyxiated and one is not expected to live.

There is a strong feeling in Canada against the steady influx of negro settlers from the United States, and the Canadians are alarmed for fear they will bring the hookworm. This means that sooner or later Canada will have an exclusion act aimed at the hookworm.

Says the Columbia State: "A wealthy widow, 61, of Washington, has married a man of 26. Another very rich woman of Pittsburg, 81, is going to marry a man of 30. Divorces are bad, but there are some things a few degrees worse." This simply shows that a man should always be in full possession of his faculties when he meets up with a widow of any age.

To advertise or not to advertise! That is the question uppermost in the mind and intention of every live business man and progressive community. The question is whether a city shall advertise and become known abroad or be content with the obscurity of the merchandise which gets covered with dust because the merchant in his folly has never advertised it as worth the money asked for it.

SENATOR SIMMONS' ATTITUDE.

Concerning reciprocity, The Star hasn't got a bit of advice to give to the North Carolina delegation in Congress, for they are on the ground and we are satisfied each Senator and each Representative can "take keer hisself," after the manner of 'Brer Rabbit. However, we are interested in the attitude of our Senators and Representatives on any and all questions, and we agree with out contemporaries that the newspapers of North Carolina can comment all they please about reciprocity and other things. Senator Simmons' attitude on reciprocity with Canada is being generally cussed and discussed in the State papers, and some are depreciating, some criticising and some advising. The Charlotte Chronicle advises as follows, under the editorial headline of "Listen, Simmons:"

"The Washington Herald figures it out that President Taft has practically won the fight for Canadian reciprocity, as a poll of the Senate shows it will pass that body. Thirty Senators oppose the bill, but most of these, according to present reckoning, "are expected one by one either to change their votes, or cease their efforts to defeat the bill by debate." The hope can be scarcely entertained that Senator Simmons may be found in the first named class, but it is not too much to hope that he will fall into the latter, like a good fellow. He has done so many good hings in Congress, that we could forgive him his anti-reciprocity vote, and we have said so, but he ought not to make any more fuss than necessary about it."

We have been watching the course of Senator Simmons with a great deal of interest but up to this time we have observed nothing that has disturbed our equilibrium, or beset us with either surprise or alarm. As for that reciprocity proposition, we observe that it has assumed an entirely different phase under Democratic steering than when it had all the features of a purely Republican proposition. We have no doubt the attitude of Senator Simmons upon the proposition will vary as does the different phases of the reciprocity measure change in the course of legislation. We calmy await the final solution of the matter and then we can tell you more about it.

The Star is concerned over no man's political fortunes, but it is committed to the best interests of North Carolina. We are laboring under the impression that Senator Simmons is conscientiously shaping his course to that end, and if he and Senator Overman will only see that we do not get the kind of reciprocity that will seriously affect the interests of North Carolina, we will be satisfied, However, there is reciprocity and reciprocity, and then some more, but the reciprocity we want is not the reciprocity which sectionally favors New England, or the West or the South, but we hanker after the article that will equably and equitably distribute throughout all the country each and every benefit of reciprocity.

Reciprocity can be discriminating or helpful or hurtful to some one section or all of them, but if it is to be specially hurtful to any interest we don't want it to seriously affect any North Carolina interest without we get "something equally as good," as the druggist tells us.

Inasmuch as reciprocity is of several different kinds, simply opening the opportunity for a trade by which we may either get it in the neck or be able to take the cake, we refuse to bow down to reciprocity on account of its big name or what it may look like, but ever reserve our applause for reciprocity till it proves itself a good thing or merely an abortion. It can be either one or the other, and for that reason it is none of our Teddy bear.

Senator Simmons can now look upon reciprocity with Canada in an entirely different light to what he did when he took a strong or seemingly radical position against it, but it is yet a thing which may require considerable scrutiny. We assume, however, that both Senators Overman and Simmons will look it over carefully and act according to their best judgment. We are prepared to believe that both those Tar Heel Senators will honestly do that.

In the meantime, we now, and always will, look upon reciprocity simply as the means to a tariff trade in which we are as liable to get bit as the other fellow is to get stuck. That is what we think of several kinds of reciprocity but we don't think near that much of Republican reciprocity. Give us the Democratic article carefully compounded.

PORT DEVELOPMENT.

That the port of Wilmington will respond most readilty and most magnificently in a yield of commerce to any substantial improvements of its facilities for attracting and taking care of any business that is offered the South Atlantic territory, is most strikingly illustrated in the experience of the Seaboard Air Line Railway Co., which is really the only transportation interest that has manifested any sort of faith in the present and future of Wilmington as a port.

The Star has recently come into possession of authentic figures which show beyond peradventure that when the Seaboard Air Line three or four years ago invested something over $250,000 in the establishment of its terminals here it builded even more wisely than it knew. Not only has the business at the port developed to justify the comparatively large expenditure, but it has gone even beyond what the newspaper folks like to call its "most sanguine expectations" until within the past two or three weeks even the four large warehouses of the company in this city have not been at all adequate to take care of the business that has offered; the truth is, cargo after cargo has had to be diverted elsewhere because the proper terminal facilities were lacking.

This condition refers not only to imports, but a large exporting business in half a dozen commodities could be built up here if the proper facilities were offered.

The Seaboard made its investment here purely on "suspicion." That the "suspicion" was well founded is a source of gratification to commercial Wilmington, which has looked on at the display of nerve by the Seaboard and has been gratified to note the success of its venture.

This investment has not only redounded to the financial benefit of the Seaboard in handling this vast amount of business, but it has cemented a friendship between the shipper and railroad company that is bound to make for the company easy sailing for the future in taking care of its fair proportion of the large business offering at Wilmington and in the Wilmington territory. The alignment of freight rates makes Wilmington a most attractive port for the Carolinas and the Seaboard has taken cognizance of the situation in a way that with the coming of the "Thirty-Foot Channel," there will be little to be desired in still further making this the gateway for a considerable portion of several States in this territory.

Not only has the Seaboard been exceedingly kind to Wilmington in this port development, but the road has even greater things in prospect if one may judge from the recent purchase of the valuable Waccamaw Lumber Company's wharfage and the present construction of a modern freight warehouse on its property here. Trackage facilities are not all that could be desired, but the business has developed with such a remarkable celerity that it has been impossible to meet the contingency. But watch the Seaboard! It is fully alive to its responsibilities with respect to Wilmington and ere long there will not be the slightest bar to its progress and means of development. The city of Wilmington owes much to the Seaboard; in future years the indebtedness will be much larger!

INTERVENTION IN MEXICO.

President Taft's attitude with reference to the grave situation in Mexico has been admirable. As commander-in-chief of the forces of the United States, he ordered the army "maneuvers" on the Mexicon frontier so the military branch of the government would be in a position to protect American interests if necessary. Aside from that, the army maneuvers were proper as a means of giving the army the necessary training and field experience so absolutely necessary, if we expect to maintain an effective means of defense.

When the country gets ready to eliminate its army and navy and regard them as negligible concomitants of our National existence, it would be no longer necessary for either the army or the navy to do any training. However, as we haven't gotten along that far yet, under any misconception that the world has deified the Dove of Peace, it is not only proper but wise to keep the military forces of the country in a condition and state of preparedness to meet any and all eventualities. So long as that is necessary it logically follows that maneuvers cannot be abandoned.

Under the conditions existing in Mexico, the frontier was the logical place for the present army maneuvers, since it was a capital illustration of killing two birds with one stone—all of which is to say, that the maneuvers served to give the army the necessary training while at the same time it would be in a position to be ready for action consequent upon the increasingly grave situation in Mexico. Events have demonstrated the President's wisdom and his acts as commander-in-chief have been so clearly vindicated that both the Democratic and Republican Congressmen have acquiesced in or approved his course. Patriotism on the part of men of all parties would dictate that attitude on the part of Congress and we are glad that a Democratic Congress has refrained from furnishing the world a spectacle at which to marvel.

Having done his duty as President and commander-in-chief, President Taft continued his diplomatic management of the Mexican situation, loth to take the responsibility of intervention with all its signally grave consequences. Therefore, he deferred to Congress in the matter of intervention, and he placed the matter where it belongs. Congress represents the people of the Nation and he referred the people's serious business to their representatives.

President Taft has had the opportunity to play the part of the bullheaded bovine in the China emporium but he was "on his job" in the dignified exercise of the prudent statesmanship that resognized the right and dignity of a sister Republic and contemplated the cautious protection of American interests.

How Congress will handle the situation is another matter, but that is where the solution lies. It is up to Congress and it will be interesting to note the degree of aggregated statesmanship contained in that body representing a Nation which only aims at doing what is right and proper.

Intervention is when a nation meddles with another's affairs, but with an individual it is "butting-in."

"The president of the American Wolen manufacturers says if Congress should lower schedule 'K,' the manufacturers would have to go out of business." Well, yes. Out of the business of fleecing the ultimate consumer, and that's a consummation devoutly to be wished.—Richmond News-Leader.

Senator Simmons followed his senatorial defy by a personal visit to Raleigh, but it is related that he did not call on Governor Kitchin. Why should he have called? If there is one thing Simmons is not, it is a hypocrit. The public would have looked upon his call on his prospective opponent as an act of hypocrisy.—Charlotte Chronicle.

A unique experiment in railroad gardening has begun at Merion station, a suburb of Philadelphia. Upon the embankment on either side of the Pennsylvania railroad at that station will be planted 2,000 of the finest trailing roses, specially imported from Japan and presented to the railroad by Edward Bok, whose home is at Merion. The roses are very free bloomers of what is called the Japanese Wichuviana variety and carry from 100 to 200 blooms on each bush at one time, so that the trains will run through two solid banks of hundreds of thousands of roses. Each railroad bank is 400 feet long and over 25 feet high. Would that a like story could be told of the beautifying of some Southern station.—Mobile Register.

The Concord Tribune takes pretty much the same view of Congressman Kitchin's speech as that expressed by The Chronicle. "Of course, the animus of Mr. Kitchin's remarks about Senator Simmons," says The Tribune, "is plainly apparent, as his brother, Governor W. W. Kitchin, is trying to displace the Senator in favor of himself. Mr. Kitchin referred in a satirical manner to his fellow-congressmen of the State. It is understood that he referred particularly to Mr. Webb, and it is stated that both Webb and Gudger will reply to him. We think it is unfortunate that Mr. Kitchin should have injected these remarks in his speech as it aroused considerable feeling in the delegation." That bears out The Chronicle's impression as to how Mr. Kitchin's speech will be generally interpreted in the State. — Charleston Chronicle.

Cardui may be taken year after year, at times when its benefit is needed, and as a general tonic, without any bad after-effects whatever.

Many drugs, like quinine, acetanilide, iodide of potassium, etc., cannot be so taken without doing you more harm than they do you good.

Be careful what you put into your stomach, as lasting injury frequently results from the regular use of powerful drugs and medicines.

Cardui cannot possibly do you anything but good, as it is a mild, gentle tonic, of purely vegetable ingredients, non-mineral, non-intoxicating, non-poisonous—harmless to young and old.

Thousands of ladies have testified to the beneficial results that come from the use of Cardui, the woman's tonic.

NAVIGATION REGULATIONS

Protest of Shipping Interests Filed With Capt. Earl I. Brown, Following Action of Chamber of Commerce.

Following the recent meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, the protest against the stringent river regulations, which are regarded by many as inimical to the port, was sent yesterday to Capt. Earl I. Brown, Corps of Engineers, U. S. A., in the hope that the particularly objectionable rules may be rescinded or modified.

As will be recalled from previous mention, the rules were adopted by the War Department upon approval of the local engineer's office, and while a number of them are considered to the advantage of navigation, others are regarded as detrimental to the general shipping interests. Capt. Brown is expected to forward the protest to the Department with such recommendations as he may deem necessary.

The protest as approved by the Chamber of Commerce and shipping interests of the port, is as follows:

"The Chamber of Commerce of the City of Wilmington, North Carolina, desires to enter a respectful, but emphatic protest against regulations No. 4 and No. 5, promulgated by the War Department, on February 18th, 1911, with reference to navigation on the Cape Fear River, North Carolina, at and below Wilmington. There were seven regulations promulgated at the same time, copies of which are hereto attached.

"We protest against regulations Nos. 4 and 5, and respectfully suggest that it is manifest that the enforcement of these two regulations will hamper and restrict commerce of the port of Wilmington, and will increase considerably the expense of doing business in this port. This is indicated by the fact that the owners of the tug boats in this port have already advertised giving notice of an increase in their towage charges from Southport to Wilmington from 22 cents to 25 cents per ton, a copy of which advertisement is hereto attached.

"We suggest that nothing but necessity would justify these restrictions, and we are unable to see any justification on that score. The government has been, and is, expending large sums of money for the purpose of improving the commercial facilities of this port, and increasing the width and depth of this channel, and this has been done, and it is impossible for us to see why these restrictive regulations, which have not been heretofore necessary, should be necessary now.

"We feel strongly that these regulations will necessarily retard the growth of our expanding commerce and will injure our port, and we therefore protest against them."

LISTS WILL OPEN TODAY.

Until Saturday Night Efforts Will be Made to Justify Guarantee.

This morning listers will commence work in an endeavor to obtain sufficient subscriptions in order to justify the Academy management in bringing "The Chocolate Soldier" to Wilmington May 5th. This step is necessary as the attraction, which is one of the biggest in the country, will not come without a big guarantee, and while the Wilmington management feels that the audience will necessarily be a large one, yet it desires to feel half way justified in making the guarantee. Hence, a canvass for subscriptions. The canvassers will start out on their rounds this morning, but in addition to the work to be done by them and as the time for consideration is so brief, a list will be placed at Plummer's confectionery establishment, where patrons may leave orders for seats. The management of the Academy of Music has only until Saturday night to make answer, so it is imperative that Wilmington theatregoers, who, of course, know of the great magnitude and superb merit of the attraction, make answer at once. The original New York company and production will be seen here. Some idea of the giant size of the company may be gathered when it is stated that a special orchestra of 20 pieces is carried by the organization. From a scenic standpoint it is also huge.

The Wilmington date is Saturday night, May 5th. This was the only date that could be offered. However, by special arrangements the curtain will not rise until 9 o'clock, if the attraction is obtained.

Ex-Soldier Bound Over to Federal Court for Retailing Liquor.

George R. Grice, a former soldier stationed at Fort Caswell, and who was arrested last week upon the charge of selling whiskey to soldiers at the Fort, was given preliminary trial yesterday before United States Commissioner George Harriss and the evidence was of such a nature that he was bound over to the next term of Federal Court. In default of $300 bond he was committed to jail.

Samples of the liquor he is charged with dispensing were produced in court and several witnesses for the prosecution were examined. Grice is represented by Messrs. W. P. Gafford and L. Clayton Grant.

Ex-Juuge R. W. Winston, of Raleigh, who is well known throughout the State, spent yesterday in the city to appear in an action in Superior court. SIXTH DISTRICT ODD FELLOWS

Well Attended and Enthusiastic Convention Yesterday at Burgaw—Interesting Discussions and Other Features.

Mr. W. H. Yopp returned yesterday evening from Burgaw, N. C., where he attended the Sixth District Convention of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, which gathering proved most interesting and heiful to the large number of members in attendance. The meeting concluded last night with a bountiful supper and an evening session.

The district is composed of the four lodges in Wilmington and lodges at Whiteville, Southport, Burgaw, Wallace, Warsaw and Clinton and lodges from this city being represented by nine delegates. Mr. Yopp says the meeting was very enthusiastic and helpful. The exercises opened with the opening ode and prayer, followed by a very cordial address of welcome by C. E. McCullen, Esq., to which the response was by Mr. Yopp. After routine business, the delegates were enrolled and standing committees were appointed, the convention then giving itself over to a number of interesting discussions as follows:

"How to Make Meetings Pleasant," Warsaw Lodge No. 203.

"How to Get Members to Attend Meetings," Wilmington Lodge No. 139.

"How to Build Up a Lodge," Hanover Lodge No. 145.

"How to Keep Members in Good Standing," Goodwill Lodge No. 192.

"How to Have Brotherly Love Among Members," Burgaw Lodge No. 243.

"Our Orphan's Home and Paper," Cape Fear Lodge No. 2.

"The Value of Good Officers and Committees," Orion Lodge No. 67.

"How to Build Up and Have a Good Degree Team," Atlantic Lodge No. 43.

"What Good is Accomplished by District Conventions to Build Up Lodges, and What Does the Grand Lodge Accomplish by District Conventions," Clinton Lodge No. 124.

"What is the Best Mode to Keep a Lodge in Good Financial Condition, and Thus Prolong the Life of the Lodge," Columbus Lodge No. 27.

A feature of the convention was a telegram of sympathy and love to Mr. Richard J. Jones, Grand Treasurer of the Grand Lodge, who is indisposed at his home in this city, the convention expressing the hope that he will be speedily restored to his accustomed good health.

The silver loving cup offered by the Grand Lodge for the best exemplification of the secret work of the order being held again this year by Mr. T. H. Patrick, of this district, it was decided that for the present the Sixth District would not again enter the competition.

Last night at final sessions reports of lodges on membership increase since 1910 were made and the good of the order in general was considered. There was also a report of standing committees, an exemplification of the secret work by Mr. Patrick and other interesting exercises incident to the close of a most pleasant and profitable gathering.

HEATERS AND GAS RANGES.

Tidewater Power Company Preparing for Series of Demonstrations.

Pursuant to their progressive policy, the Tidewater Power Co., will conduct a number of practical demonstrations in the near future, the first of which will be a demonstration of the Ruud automatic water heater which will be in charge of an expert from the factory. The first demonstration will be held between the first and tenth of May and will, no doubt, attract considerable attention to this popular heater.

The first car load of new ranges from the Clark Jewel factory arrived a few days ago and are now being placed in the exhibition rooms of the company, and they present the handsomest appearance of any yet shown. Many new features have been added, most notable of which is the valveless lighter, which dispenses with the pilot light of the older types. Convenience, the slogan of all gas ranges, plays a large part in the make-up of every one of the different ranges shown. Very little stooping is necessary in any of the different types; the mirror flame reflector puts the flame within easy view without bending or stooping in the least.

In addition to the regular demonstrator and instructor now employed by the company, a professional demonstrator will be obtained and a series of lectures and demonstrations will be given at an early date. These lectures proved very popular last Summer, and added many to the list of patrons of the company and this work will be done on a much larger scale this season.

FAILED TO DELIVER COTTON

Case Being Tried to Test Validity of Contract—J. W. Carmichael Got Verdict for $3 and Interest — Superior Court.

One of the many suits instituted in this and other counties in the eastern part of the State, growing out of the failure of numerous persons to comply with the terms of contracts entered into during the Fall of 1909, for the sale of cotton, was taken up in the Superior Court yesterday afternoon and is now on trial. The amount involved in the suit is only $1,000 but on the result of this case depends others.

The suit is that of Alexander Sprunt & Son against C. C. May, of Trenton, Jones county. Mr. W. H. Sprunt went on the stand yesterday and testified to the nature of contracts their buyers were authorized to make, it being an absolute rule to make no contracts except for the absolute delivery of actual cotton. The contract in question was placed in evidence. It was executed by C. C. May in the Fall of 1909 and he agreed to deliver to the plaintiff within about three months 100 bales of cotton and was to receive 12 cents per pound. After the contract was made cotton advanced and remained up and the 100 bales were never delivered. Mr. Sprunt testified that contracts had been made by his firm selling cotton and they had to go on the market and pay 14 cents per pound, entailing a loss of $1,000. He stated that the firm during the seasons of 1909-10 exported 400,000 bales.

The defendant sets up the act of the Legislature making dealing in futures illegal. C. C. May went upon the stand and testified that while he executed the contract and it showed he was to deliver 100 bales of cotton that, as a matter of fact, he did not expect to deliver a bale but was told by the buyer who got him to close the contract that he would never be expected to deliver the cotton but settle upon the basis of the difference in the price named and what he would have to pay later. He said he was not a farmer and only bought cotton on commission.

The case is being vigorously contested. Messrs. Rountree & Carr appear for the plaintiff and Messr. Aycock & Winston, of Raleigh; Messrs. Warren & Warren, of Trenton; Col. P. M. Pearsall, of Newbern, and Mr. Herbert McClammy, of this city, appear for the defendant. All of these attorneys were present except ex-Governor Aycock.

Quite a number of suits similar to this, instituted by Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son, have been settled, this being the first one to go on trial in this State, although some were contested in South Carolina, the plaintiff gaining a verdict in each.

The jury is as follows: J. R. Lewis, C. H. Batson, T. H. Tate, C. E. Kerr, J. D. Brown, M. C. Hammond, L. L. Rice, Z. V. Hodges, George Schnibben, John H. Kuch, J. L. Wilkins and H. K. Holden.

After being out for several hours, the jury in the case of J. W. Carmichael against the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company returned a verdict giving the plaintiff $3 and interest on same from June, 1908. This was the amount Mr. Carmichael had to pay to have his telephone re-installed.

The probabilities are that the case of Mrs. Louisa G. Wright et al, against the city of Wilmington will be called for trial this morning. This will make the third or fourth time that this case has been tried. That is, some phase of the same controversy. This is a suit for $2,000 for the use of certain property just east of the city known as the rock quarry, and also for interest on money it was formerly adjudged the city was due for rock. The plaintiff is represented by Messrs. Rountree & Carr and Mr. A. G. Ricaud and the defendant by ex-Judge E. K. Bryan.

Upon motion of the attorneys for the plaintiff, the case of Hugh O. Wallace against C. C. Covington in which large damages are asked for slander, the action growing out of a speech made by Mr. Covington at a mass meeting at the court house during the campaign of last year, was continued and peremptorily set for the first case at the May term.

Other cases set for the May term were: R. N. Carnep against M. J. Heyer, first Wednesdap of term, and M. W. Divine & Company against the Angola Lumber Company, fifth case of May term.

Non-suit was entered in case of Henry G. Harris against Robert S. Merritt.

Judge Peebles announced yesterday afternoon that he expected to adjorun court this morning from 11:30 until 3 o'clock in order to attend the exercises incident to the unveiling of the George Davis monument.

Beautiful and most appropriate ceremonies will today at noon mark the formal presentation of the handsome statue of the Honorable George Davis to the City of Wilmington by the United Daughters of the Confederacy. If the weather is favorable the exercises will take place at the base of the handsome monument in the center of the beautiful plaza at Third and Market streets; otherwise, in the Academy of Music.

A feature of the exercises will be an oration and the formal presentation of the statue by the Honorable Henry Groves Connor, judge of the United States Circuit and District Courts for the Eastern District of North Carolina, the acceptance in behalf of the City of Wilmington being by Mayor Walter G. MacRae. The people of this city, of which the Hon. George Davis was a distinguished son, and of the State, to which he was an honor, are most cordially invited to attend and participate in the exercises.

Gen. James I. Metts, of the United Confederate Veterans, will be chief marshal and a very appropriate order of exercises has been prepared for observance on this occasion. Opening with hymn 196, "Our Father's God! to Three," the unveiling of the statue will be preceded by prayer by the Rt. Rev. Robert Strange, D. D., Bishop of the East Carolina Diocese. The unveiling will then be by four grandsons of the distinguished Carolinian and Southerner, Masters Robert Cowan Davis, Heiskell Gouverneur, George Rountree, Jr., and Donald MacRae, Jr. A beautiful feature will be a rendition of "Carolina's Sons are Ready," by Mr. Davis, a stirring call of battle for the South. The introduction of the orator will be by Gen. Metts, the chief marshal, after which Judge Connor will speak and Mayor MacRae will formally accept the handsome statue in behalf of Wilmington. After the singing of "The Old North State," words by Hon. William Gaston, the benediction will be pronouncel and then will come to an end one of the most delightful and fitting tributes it has ever been the pleasure of the Daughters of the Confederacy to pay. The Daughters have been exceedingly fortunate in their selection of a sculptor for the monument and have been diligent in raising funds for this laudable purpose, having received most valuable assistance in their undertaking from Mr. James Sprunt, an admirer and long-time friend of Mr. Davis.

All members of Cape Fear Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, are requested to meet this morning at 11:30 o'clock in a body to attend the exercises. As before stated, if the weather is favorable the exercises will take place from an improvised stand at Third and Market streets, but if the weather is too inclement, the exercises will be held in the Academy of Music. Cape Fear Camp, United Confederate Veterans, is also called to assemble at the armory for the purpose of attending the exercises in a body and in uniform.

Not only will the presentation be an event of importance to the military and patriotic organizations of the city, but the business men recognize the unveiling the culmination of a most important duty in the life of the community and members of the Chamber of Commerce are requested to meet at the armory at 11:30 o'clock that they may attend in a body the exercises. The occasion is one that the members of the organization should honor by a full attendance.

The adult members of the several church choirs have been and are invited to take part in the services of the unveiling and it is hoped that a great number of them will attend. Citizens generally are invited to attend and it is hoped there will be a large and representative gathering.

BOTH CASES DISMISSED.

Claimed That Negroes Got Goods and Refused to Work.

Jeff and Cooter Sharpless, two negroes, were before Justice Bornemann yesterday under warrants sworn out by Mr. W. G. Baldwin, of Cape Fear township, charging them with securing goods and promising to work out the amount due and then failing to do so. It was claimed that one defendant owed $34.20 and the other $34.80. Receipt, was produced in each case showing a small payment had been made. After hearing the evidence Justice Bornemann decided that it was not a case for the criminal docket and the action was dismissed. L. Clayton Grant, Esq., prosecuted and R. F. Brooks, Esq., defended the negroes.

Hangar Erected for Machine of American Aeroplane Company.

About two miles from the city, on the Castle Haynes road, there has been erected a large building of somewhat unusual design, and it has attracted much attention. The building is the property of the American Aeroplane Company, and is to be used as a machine shop and hangar for this company's first aeroplane, now in course of construction.

The building, or "hangar" as it is called in aeronautical language, is said to be much larger than is usually the case, this being necessary on account of the large type of the machine. It will be twice as large as the Curtiss machine used in the exhibitions here some time since. The height of the flyer will be about 17 feet, with a wing spread of 36 feet and a fore and aft measure of 34 feet. Two 50-horse power revolving engines will furnish power for the two paragon propellors of seven and a half feet diameter, giving a combined pull of between 800 and 1,000 pounds at 1,200 revolutions per minute. The frame work will be exclusively of steel tubing and castings of macadamite. The weight will be approximately 850 pounds and the area of supporting surface over 500 square feet. Much of the material for the machine has already arrived and an order has been placed for the remainder.

It is stated that the United States Patent Office has lately allowed the inventor of this machine very broad claims. Foreign patents have also been applied for in Canada, England, France, Germany, Austria, Belgium, Italy and Russia.

It will be only a few weeks before the flyer will be completed and the promoters are confident that the machine will be a success from the very first.

J. N. BRITTAIN ARRESTED.

Charged With Securing Money Under False Pretenses—Trial.

J. N. Brittain, a piano salesman, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Kelly under a warrant from Goldsboro charging Brittain with obtaining $150 by falsely representing that he owned an undivided interest in a tract of land of 500 acres. He gave bond last night in the sum of $200 for his appearance before Justice of the Peace J. E. Peterson in Goldsboro today.

Brittain contends that it is merely an effort to compel him to pay the money due at once; that he has an interest in a tract of land in Onslow county and gave a mortgage on the same and that the mortgage is due but he has not the money to meet the same. The mortgage was given six months or more ago.

Three Fires Yesterday.

With the high winds prevailing at the time the Fire Department was literally "on the jump" for several hours yesterday about noon. The first alarm was on account of a small blaze at 602 Castle street, owned by Mrs. J. D. Steljes and occupied by Mr. H. D. Oldenbuttel, the damage being trifling. After returning to the station another alarm called the laddies back to the same place and this was scarcely handled before a third alarm called the department to 506 Bladen street, owned and occupied by Sadie Hall, where the damage was not of consequence.

MISS "BETTIE" LATIMER ILL IN HER NEW YORK HOME.

New York, April 19.—Miss Elizabeth Latimer, familiarly known as "Bettie" to her intimates of the most exclusive set of Newport and New York, and known generally to others as "The Prettiest Girl of the Four Hundred," is seriously ill with pneumonia at the Latimer suite in The Plaza, it was learned today. The news of Miss Latimer's illness has created serious alarm among her friends. Dr. Frank Oastler, the attending physician, has considered it necessary to have two trained nurses at Miss Latimer's bedside and today, according to report at The Plaza, he was compelled to administer oxygen. In addition to the nurses Mrs. W. J. Cotton, Miss Latimer's mother, is also in constant attention. Miss Latimer is not only one of the prettiest young women of the Four Hundred, but she is also one of the most popular. The most striking feature of her beauty is her light blond hair, which has called forth all sorts of poetical epithets. She is known to many as "Betty of the Spun Gold Hair." At various times since her debut in New York society, Miss Latimer has been reported engaged to Jay Gould, Colonel James J. Van Allen, and T. Sufferen Tailer, but rumors in each of these cases proved not to be well founded. Miss Latimer continued heart free, but that was not the condition of the numbers of young men whom she attracted. Miss Latimer's social success has been as pronounced abroad as it is in New York, and among the Summer colony at Newport, she is that universal type, a Southern blonde. The Latimers come from Wilmington, N. C., and it was at Hot Springs, Va., before her "coming out" that the girl first attracted general attention. Shortly after the Hot Springs period, the Latimers went abroad, and in Paris the girl attracted enough attention to have French society journalists turn loose their poetic pens upon her beauty. Her hair was referred to as "Sun Kissed Gold Shot Through With Glints of Copper." From Paris, the Latimers went to Rome and it was the same story of the girl's conquest all over again.

BEAUTIFUL CHURCH WEDDING YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

Yesterday afternoon hundreds of friends gatnered at St. James' church to witness one of the most beautiful weddings that has taken place here for some time, when Miss Fannie Lyle Murchison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Murchison, became the attractive bride of Mr. Ashley Curtis, a prominent and highly esteemed young business man of this city.

The ceremony was impressively performed by Rev. W. H. Milton, D. D., rector of St. James' church, which was prettily decorated for the ocasion. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, Mr. J. W. Murchison, by whom she was given in marriage. The groom entered from the left accompanied by his best man, Mr. Kenneth Burgwin, of Chapel Hill, and met the bride at the altar.

The maid of honor was Miss Jennie Murchison, a sister of the bride, and the bridesmaids were Misses Mary Nelson, of Baltimore; Susan Bynum, of Lincolnton; Jean Pemberton, of Fayetteville; Madeline deRosset, Atha Hicks and Alice LeGrand, of Wilmington. The groomsmen were Messrs. John R. Murchison, a brother of the bride; Frank G. Harriss, J. F. Roach, David Murchison, also a brother of the bride; Platt W. Davis, and S. T. Pender, of Columbia, S. C.

The bride was beautiful in a gown of satin crepe meteor embroidered with pearls and duchess lace and wore a lace veil caught up with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore white net trimmed with pink satin fichu, and pink sash, and carried an old-fashioned bouquet. The bridesmaids wore white net trimmed with blue satin fichu, and blue sashes, and carried old-fashioned bouquets.

After the ceremony the bridal party drove to the home of the bride, where a reception was given in honor of the young couple, after which they went to the union station where they boarded the train for the North to spend their honeymoon. They expect to be away for about ten days, and will be at home to their friends at 309 South Second street.

The bride and groom are both prominent young folks of this city and have a host of friends here and elsewhere in the States that will wish them much happiness.

A very pretty feature of the wedding service at the church was that when the bridal party entered the church, they were met at the main entrance by the chorister boys, singing with beautiful effect "The Voice That Breathed Over Eden." The flower girls, Misses Lucy Murchison, Mamie deRosset Holt, of Fayetteville, lent their presence to this charming feature most admirably.

FOWLER AND MOORE.

They Are Candidates in Fourth Ward for Election in May.

Although the body of the article gave a correct account of the result, the head of the article on the Wilmington primary election in yesterday's Star gave the name of Mr. W. E. Yopp as one of the nominees in the Fourth Ward. This was an error. The nominees are ex-Mayor John J. Fowler and former Alderman Parker Quince Moore, who will stand for election in May. Although Mr. Yopp made a close run for the nomination he was defeated by Mr. Moore and Mr. Fowler was the other nominee This correction is made in justice to all, as there was no purpose to make the head of the article read other than the body of the article.

—A deed was placed on record yesterday from W. A. Dick, commissioner to Martin O'Brien, for the sum of $2,100, lot 207x176 feet on the west side of the turnpike and adjoining the first toll house property.

"The Little Princess."

Following are some criticisms of "The Little Princess," by leading papers in cities where the production has been given. It will appear at the Academy tomorrow and Friday evenings:

"From a spectacular point of view, there has never been anything in Atlanto to equal 'Little Princess'."—Atlanta (Ga.) Journal.

"Dazzling in its magnificence of costuming, beautiful in its music, and almost perfect in its rendition, 'Little Princess' was presented last night to a packed house."—Charleston (S. C.) News and Courier.

"Of course, 'Little Princess' achieved a great triumph. The six scenes were a wonderful maze of color brilliant, and as scene succeeded scene in gradually developing magnificence, the gorgeous rose garden finale was a fitting climax to the beautiful spectacular performance. The Academy was packed by Charleston citizens."—Charleston Evening Post.

An Ibsen Recital.

Of Madame Labadie, who is to appear here under the auspices of the Hospital Circle of the King's Daughters, April 27th, the New York Herald of a recent date said:

"Harriet R. Labadie's first lecture-recital for the benefit of the free bed fund of the International Sunshine Society was held yesterday afternoon, attracting a large audience. Mrs. Labadie read Ibsen's 'A Dall's House,' with a dramatic force and appreciation of its subtlety that thoroughly delighted her audience.

"Two other recitals will be given by Mrs. Labadie for the same worthy object. The first of these will be given next Tuesday afternoon. The subject will be "The Servant in the House.' The last lecture and reading of the series will have as its subject 'Stories by the Wawside,' including scenes from Shakespeare and Browning. It will be given next Thursday afternoon."

Grand Theatre.

On today's programme at the Grand will be found three reels of new films and as a special features in the music line, Mr. Baldwin will sing "Just One Girl," a beautiful ballad with beautiful illustrations, and as an extra number will sing the big comedy hit, "This is no Place for a Minister's Son." Those who attended yesterday witnessed an excellent programme and today's bill looks even better. The orchestra will play a selection from "Algeria."

Crystal Palace.

As an addition to the programme at the Palace the Meeker Sisters will present an excellent act of singing and dancing interspersed with a bit of lively cross fire. The younger Miss Meeker as a black-face artist is unusually comical and Miss Flossy, the other, with a fine soprano voice, features several popular ballads. "Satisfied at Last." a comedy sketch, will be presented by the "Two Williams." The Claywood sisters in their neat sketch are most entertaining, their medley song being a big hit. With two new pictures this comprises an almost entire new programme and is thoroughly in accord with the usual good vaudeville at the Palace.

At the Bijou.

Featured by the latest Biograph film, "Madame Rex," the Bijou today will offer a big bouquet of the choicest of moving pictures, besides, of course, a new illustrated song by Mr. Frank Banks, and a new programme of selections by the giant orchestral electric piano. Another film of note will be "The Haven of Refuge." The story in this film centers around early days in California, when lower California was under Spanisa rule. But "Madame Rex" is the big star and it has been said that the plot is more intense and more touching than that of the famed "Madame X," which theatre-goers will recall as one of the big attractions at the Academy this season. It is a story of a mother's sacrifice and the celebrated Biograph company never did more artistic work than when it enacted this stirring drama before the moving picture machine. It should certainly be seen today at the Bijou.

Joyland.

Another of those feature programmes will go on at Joyland this afternoon, and one that should especially appeal to the school children. The feature picture will be "The Life of Robt. Emmet," the famous Irish poet, who is known to every school boy and girl who has reached the age to study literature and history to any extent. This picture will depict his whole life more graphically than has ever been attempted in any book that has been published, and will contain several interesting true incidents in his life that have never found their way into print. This picture is produced with the aid of expensive specially constructed scenery and effects, and will be interesting to everyone. Mr. Reilly will have a new song which is sure to please and there will be other pictures, too. The're off at 2:30 P. M.

BERRIES RIPENING SLOWLY.

Expected That Shipment Will be Heavy Next Week.

Reports yesterday from the berry belt were to the effect that the fruit had begun to move but very little, it being too cloudy for the berries to ripen well. With favorable weather for the next few days shipments will be heavy during the approaching week. Only about twelve cars have been shipped from the entire territory thus far. There will probably be no shipments in car lots from the W. & W. territory before next week as that section is not quite as far advanced as Chadbourn.

It is said that the weevil cvannot do a great deal of damage this season as the plants have enough berries to make a good crop if no more berries appear.

VOTE OFFICIALLY CANVASSED

No Changes Made—Books Open Until Saturday Night, But New Registration Not Required—Contest is Warming Up.

Yesterday at 12 o'clock the City Board of Elections met in the Mayor's office at the city hall and officially canvassed the vote cast in the primary election, held Tuesday. The Board declared the following nominated:

First Ward—W. L. West and B. C. Moore.

Second Ward—Joseph D. Smith and H. F. Wilder.

Third Ward—W. E. Perdew and B. A. Merritt.

Fourth Ward—John J. Fowler and P. Q. Moore.

Fifth Ward—M. G. Tiencken and C. C. Loughlin.

An effort was made by the Board to learn the exact number of votes cast in the election, but the registrars had not brought the necessary papers to give this information, and, as it was not necessary in declaring the result, the data was not secured.

It is estimated that the total vote was something over 2,000, but was several hundred short of the registration.

The general impression is that the vote in the regular election on May 1st will be considerably larger than yesterday. Comparatively little interest was shown in the first primary compared to what it looks like will be the case in the regular election. In every ward now the fight is between two men, which causes a very different situation to exist.

In some manner many have got the impression that an absolutely new registration is necessary to vote in the election on May 1st, but instead of a new registration the books will be open until Saturday night, merely to allow any one to register who has not already done so. Indications are that a good many will register between now and Saturday night.

Formerly city elections were held on Tuesday, but the commission government act provides that it shall be held on the first of May, 1911, and the first Monday in May every two years thereafter. The first day of May, this year, is on Monday.

Interred in Oakdale.

In the presence of a number of friends and relatives, the commital services for the remains of the late Miss Thalia F. The pall-bearers from the parish house to the cemetery were Messrs. J. V. Grainger, T. B. Willard, F. A. Lord, C. S. Grainger, J. T. Munds and C. D. Myers.

A CARD.

To the Voters of Wilmington, N. C.

The splendid support given me in the recent primary has touched me very deeply and I appreciate truly such an expression of your confidence. I will be pleased to again have your support on May 1st, and also that of those who could not vote for me in the primary.

AS TO SERVING OF BEER.

Filling of "Steins" With Froth a Criminal Offense.

Munich, Bavaria, Wednesday, April 19.—Serving short measure in beer and the deception of the public by filling "steins" and "seidels" with froth, so as to form what is popularly known as a "collar" has just been adjudged an offense punishable by imprisonment, by the Criminal Court here.

The tenant of a gigantic beer house who was charged with defrauding the public in this way, was sentenced to six weeks in jail and a fine of $750, and five of his waiters to terms of from one to three weeks in jail.

Evidence showed that it has become customary to serve glasses of beer in which the liquor did not reach the legally stamped mark indicating the proper measure, the drinking vessels being filled with froth.

Public indignation led to the suit, which was instituted by several customers.

MAY CAUSE A SUIT.

Against Steamship Company for Death on Steamer.

Honolulu, April 19.—Portuguese consul Canavarro, in an official letter addressed today to Governor Frear, of Hawaii, asks that the territory institute a damage suit against the British company owning the steamship Oteric on board of which 75 children of Portuguese immigrants died of measles or other diseases en route from Maderia to Honolulu.

The consul also asks that the Federal grand jury take criminal action against those said to be responsible for the deaths of the children, declaring that hospital facilities were inadequate and that the officers on board the vessel were careless. The Federal grand jury which visited the vessel yesterday declared that conditions on board were repulsive. Federal officers say that the steamer which is ready to leave port, will be detained, by force if necessary.

The Oteric reached Honolulu on April 13th, with 1,552 immigrants, most of them from Maderia.

FEZ HAS BEEN PILLAGED.

Result of Rising of Residents Many Rumors Assert.

Paris, April 19.—Dispatches from Tangier and Rabat state that rumors are current that Fez has been pillaged as a result of a rising of the residents. The rumors, however, have been received with all reserve.

Recent dispatches from Fez, which, however, were displayed in transmission, indicated that there was much idleness, misery and discontent in that city, and that troubles within the walls were feared. The situation was causing great alarm to the authorities a week ago. Fez is surrounded by the adherents of various tribes, and the city is threatened with a famine.

New Drug That Quickly Removes These Homely Spots.

There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as a new drug, othine—double strength, has been discovered that is a positive cure for these homely spots.

Simply get one ounce of othine—double strength, from J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., and apply a little of it at night, and in the morning you will see that even the worst have begun to disappear, while the light freckles have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful clear complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength othine, as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove the freckles.

WIRELESS IS REQUIRED.

Department of Commerce and Labor Will Enforce the Law.

Washington, April 15.—During May and June the Department of Commerce and Labor will prepare for enforcing the law which requires passenger carrying vessels of the United States to be equipped with wireless on and after July 1st.

All vessels which are already equipped, will be privileged to register themselves by wireless at a distance of 100 miles at sea to a navy wireless station on shore. The Navy Department will instruct its operators to take such incoming messages daily between 8 A. M. and 6 P. M.

In this way the Department of Commerce and Labor and the customs collectors at various ports will know what ships are equipped in accordance with the law.

UNSETTLED TONE FOR COTTON

Reactionary Tendency Marked Feature Yesterday—Good Support in Evidence on a Scale Down—A Decline.

New York, April 19.—The unsettled tone noted in the cotton market yesterday was followed by a reactionary tendency today as sellers were encouraged by easier Liverpool cables and while good support was in evidence on a scale down, the close was barely steady at a net decline of 7@14 points.

The opening was barely steady, at a decline of 6@11 point in sympathy with the cables, but early sellers were held in check by reports of further rains in the Central belt, and during the middle of the day prices worked up to practically the closing figures of last night, on covering and bull support.

Reports of a better spot demand undoubtedly helped the advance from the early low level, but local bears seemed to become a little more confident following an easier turn in New Orleans after midday, and the lowest level was reached in the late trading under active realizing and pressure from Wall street sources.

Private wires were received from Mississippi points reporting that lowlands were under water in some sections and that planting would be delayed from one to three weeks, in consequence, but reports from the southwest were more favorable, and in some instances claimed that the new crop movement from the extreme South might begin early in the season.

The forecast was for generally fair and warmer weather in the western belt, and for clearing weather following some scattered showers in Central and Eastern sections, and local traders seemed to feel that the delayed planting in the Mississippi Valley was not such an unfavorable feature as to offset the possible ultimate benefit to be derived from additional moisture.

Fall River advices claimed increased mill curtailment, but reports from the dry goods trade indicated rather a better demand. Included in the day's spot news was a report that a Southern spot firm had purchased 5,000 bales from the local stock. One of the prominent bull brokers was a large buyer on a scale down in the late trading here, but offerings were general, and closing prices practically the lowest of the day.

Receipts today, 8,877 bales, against 4,180 last week and 12,216 last year. For the week, 40,000 bales, against 58,444 last week and 86,393 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 4,004 bales, against 4,445 last year, and at Houston 1,474 bales, against 1,801 last year. Cotton spot closed quiet, five points lower; middling uplands, 14.85; middling gulf, 15.10; no sales.

Futures opened barely steady and closed barely steady.

COTTON CABLES NOT GOOD.

Opened at Decline of Five to Six Points—The Features.

(Special Star Telegram.)

New York, April 19.—Cables this morning were disappointing and the market here opened at a decline of some five to six points, meeting at once with the usual support which held the market through most of the day around last night's prices.

The short interest here has been much reduced and, as the trade demand on this side of the water is naturally limited, owing to the continued disparity between goods and cotton, the market has needed and received good support during the present week. During the afternoon the pressure of realizing sales from outside holders, particularly in May, brought a slow decline to the opening figures with the trade impressed by the cessation of the urgent demand from arbitrage shorts in this market. Further rains fell in the Mississippi Valley, but it was warm and clear in the Southwest, with fair weather predicted over the belt, which is, of course, advantageous for crop preparations. The foreign demand of yesterday for Fall months was not present today. The distant deliveries sympathizing with the easier tendency of the Summer positions.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, April 18.—The cotton goods markets are quiet and steady. Yarns rule easy on the coarser numbers of carded stock. There is a fair spot demand for light weight hosiery and underwear. Prints hold steady, and are in moderate demand. Wide chambrays are being ordered very freely by the cutting trades.

THE STOCK MARKET DISTURBED

Uneasiness on Account of Crisis in Affairs of Missouri Pacific—Many Issues Made Good Gains.

New York, April 19.—Wall street today was confused by the situation arising from yesterday's crisis in the affairs of Missouri Pacific, which constituted the chief influence in the stock market. Uncertainty as to the outcome of the disruption of the road's directorate and withdrawal of the Kuhn-Loeb representatives, and vague fears of further complications gave rise to some uneasiness, but strong support which was offered defeated attempts to depress prices. Missouri Pacific was the strongest stock in the list, although a number of other issues made good gains.

A report which was spread late today that substantial banking interests had agreed to take up the responsibility of financing the road, met with general acceptance, the more readily because the bankers referred to are known to be identified closely with the Rockefeller interests. It was assumed, therefore, that hereafter the road might be known as much as a Rockefeller as a Gould property.

Indications were not wanting today that the market was oversold as a result of the bearish activities of the previous two days. The opening was nervous, but the market grew steady when it was apparent that strong support was being offered and trading became dull. There were few variations in prices until the last hours, when the bears made a final drive. The market wavered and broke, but was supported as promptly and effectively as in the morning. Stocks rose quickly to the best level of the day, Missouri Pacific making a net gain of 2½, and other issues showing substantial advances.

Advices relative to the outlook in Mexico were more cheerful, and helped to relieve a situation which yesterday threatened to become distinctly depressing.

Reports from the steel trade were less cheerful. The bond market was irregular. The Gould issues weakened early in the day, but rallied with the stock. Total sales, par value, $2,252,000. United States bonds were unchanged, on call. Total sales of stocks for the day, 413,600 shares.

PLUMBERS HELD RESPONSIBLE.

For Agreement Entered Into by Enameled Ware Manufacturers.

Pittsburg, April 19.—That the agreement entered into by 16 manufacturers of sanitary enameled ware, charged by the government with violating the Sherman anti-trust act, was advantageous to jobbers and consumers of the United States and that only a certain class of plumbers and their exorbitant charges were affected, was testified to by a number of prominent manufacturers from various parts of the country during the bath tub hearing here today. The testimony was thus far the most important given since the government inquisition began here.

Among the witnesses was William H. Clow, president of James P. Clow & Sons, Cincago, who really admitted that his company had signed the agreement for the reason that it would cause an improvement in the enameled ironwares offered by the manufacturers to the jobbers. Under the agreement the company was enabled to use a patent process that both facilitated the industry and maintained a standard price for sanitary ware.

After the agreement was signed, he said, the jobbers made more money. Prices may have been higher, he said, "but the cost to the consumer was less."

"What was the cause of this?" asked Mr. Grosvenor, special assistant attorney general.

"The plumber," was the laconic response.

Mr. Crow said the plumber loaded the jobber down with alleged claims for imperfect wares and these claims under the patent process of manufacturing did not have a leg to stand on.

Other witnesses testified in a like manner. All said they had signed the agreement in order to get a better quality of goods.

articles in any form," the bill also seeks exemption from duty on wheat flour, semolina, rye flour, buckwheat flour, corn meal and all prepared cereal foods, biscuits, bread and similar articles not sweetened.

In discussing free lumber placed in the bill, hard wood excepted, the report maintains that the ownership of timber in this country has become practically a monopoly and has passed for the most part into the hands of great corporations and interests which are speculating on the increasing scarcity.

President Taft is again referred to, the report quoting from his speech of February 26th, 1911, in which he said:

"By giving our own people access to Canadian forests we shall reduce the consumption of our own, which, in the hands of a comparatively few owners now have a value that requires the enlargement of our available timber resources."

Sewing machines, the report avers, are sold abroad by American manufacturers cheaper than at home and should not be protected. The manufacturers would have by the proposed bill the additional advantage of free lumber.

Salt, also included in the free list, the report urges, should be free from artificial enhancement in price, the domestic supply being dependent upon a limited number of natural deposits, controlled by concentrated interests.

and West. The cathedral itself is a cruciform structure 520 feet long, 165 feet wide across nave and aisles, 238 feet wide across transcepts, having two western towers in angles made by arms of the cross, with a central tower and spire planted on a base 100 feet square and rearing its final cross to a height of 425 feet. As the great dome of the crossing dominates the interior, so the lofty tower, soaring from the ledges of Morningside Heights will dominate the exterior.

MURDERED PARDONED MAN.

Deputy's Rash Deed Near Asheville—Peaceful Citizen a Victim.

Asheville, N. C., April 19.—Believing that a reward of $25 once offered by the governor of Georgia for the capture of Thomas Marshburn, an alleged escaped horse thief, was still outstanding, W. H. Hyde, a deputy sheriff of Graham county, today arrested and later shot and killed the former near Bryson City, although it is said Marshburn was offering no resistance to the deputy.

It is stated that Marshburn was pardoned by the governor of Georgia after his escape, owing to the fact that he (Marshburn) was suffering from tuberculosis.

When Marshburn was arrested today by Hyde he was working at a farmer's house. He asked permission to change his clothing and this was granted. Marshburn took longer to effect the change than the deputy thought necessary, and the latter went after him dragging his prisoner out. Marshburn hung back, declaring that he would rather die than go back to the Georgia roads, whereupon it is alleged Hyde drew his pistol and shot Marshburn through the heart.

EVIDENCE WAS CORRECT.

May Mean Pardon for Man Serving Term in Sing-Sing.

Albany, N. Y., April 19.—By means of a demonstration made today on a body thah had been embalmed for a year, members of the New York State Embalmers Association claim they have proven that evidence offered in defense of Albert T. Patrick, now serving a life sentence in Sing-Sing for the murder of William Marsh Rice, was correct. It was the contention of the prosecution that the congested appearance of Rice's lungs was due to chloroform, and not the injection of embalming fluid as claimed by Patrick's experts.

Mr. C. F. Mondinger, Jr., of Brooklyn, made the demonstration today on a body that had been embalmed last year at Syracuse, and at its conclusion declared that the fluid injected in the right brachial reached and diffused in the tissue of the lungs a thing which he said experts for the Patrick prosecution insisted was impossible. It is understood that he results of the tests will be laid before Governor Dix.

LOCATED PRISON TUNNEL.

Discovered at Ohio Prison After 48 Years of Searching.

Columbus, Ohio, April 19.—That General John H. Morgan, a Confederate leader, who escaped from the Ohio penitentiary December 17, 1853, together with five of his staff, walked out of the penitentiary through the front gate instead of crawling through a tunnel dug with spoons, was the belief reached by prison officers today.

After 48 years of searching, the supposed Morgan tunnel was uncovered today by prisoners excavating for new cell blocks. Contrary to history, it was found not to have been a tunnel dug by the six men with spoons, but an air chamber excavated when the buildings were erected. It extended from the main building to the old chapel. It did not lead outside the walls.

on Military Affairs introduced two bills yesterday that he says will save the government $3,000,000 if they become laws. One of these bills would change the term of enlistment from three to five years and reduce the expense of running recruiting stations. The other bill is to repeal all laws authorizing increased pap for commissioned officers and enlisted men of the army when beyond the limits of the States composing the union and States and territories contiguous to the States of the union. The purpose of this bill is to discontinue the 10 per cent. extra to commissioned officer and 25 per cent. to enlisted men sent to the Philippine Islands. The 25 per cent. increase in pay provided in the army bill of 1908 is sufficient said Mr. Hay.

A bill to decrease the expense and increase the efficiency of the staff service of the army was introduced by Mr. Hay several days ago. Soon he will introduce a companion bill to this The four bills, it is estimated, will save about $6,000,000 annually, declared Mr. Hay today.

The Democratic caucus to be called soon will be requested to permit Mr. Hay to put these, his four bills, through at this session.

"UNCLE JOE" ON RAMPAGE.

Bitter Denunciation of Newspaper Influence in House.

Washington, April 19.—A bitter denunciation of newspaper influence in connection with the fight over free print paper legislation during the last National campaign was made by former Speaker Cannon, in a vigorous speech in the House today, in connection with his opposition to the Canadian reciprocity bill.

The Committee on Ways and Means of the sixtieth Congress, said Mr. Cannon, "when John Snarp Williams introduced his free print paper bill and it went to that committee by a unanimous vite, as I am informed, postponed action for that session of Congress and did not even hold hearings on it.

"I was speaker. They unloaded it on me. We had a stormy time. Newpaper publishers through their representatives, one of whom I shall name, Mr. Herman Ridder, demanded that I should do what never had been done before in the history of the republic; that I should recognize Mr. Williams or somebody else to rise in his place and move to discharge the committee for further consideration of that bill, which they had postponed for that session, and by the time the next session would come, the presidential election would be over."

Mr. Cannon said he replied that he could not do it; that it would not be just to his party.

"What happened?" he continued. "I was informed in the presence of witnesses that if the Republican party did not promptly put publishers upon the free list that great and good man who head the publishers association, Mr. Herman Ridder, would support Mr. Bryan for the presidency, and contribute $100,000 to his election.

"We did not pass it. When the time came, Mr. Ridder was made treasurer of that committee, and I guess he gave you boys on the Democratic side $50,000, did he not? The newspapers say so, and I have never seen it denied."

HARD PROBLEM FOR COURT.

Unusual Case Before United States Supreme Court.

Washington, April 19.—Members of the Supreme Court of the United States today put their heads together to determine whether a pretty woman, paricularly a pretty New York woman, may prevent the United States of her proposal for advertising or trade purposes. Photographers, newspaper and moving picture men, are said to be vitally concerned.

The court was considering the case of Mrs. Aida T. Rhodes, of Brooklyn, N. Y. One day arrayed in her wedding gown, she had her photograph taken for a birthday present for her husband. Not long afterward her sister-in-law remarked:

"I saw your picture today in the window of a trading stamp store."

Mrs. Rhodes obtained from the company exhibiting her photograph a $1,000 judgment. Now the Supreme Court of the United States is asked to annul as unconstitutional to the New York statute of 1903, making it a misdemeanor to use a name or photograph for advertising or trade purposes without the consent of the subject.

POLITICAL CORRUPTION.

Nine True Bills Returned Yesterday At Danville, Ill.

Danville, Ill., April 19.—The grand jury adjourned today after returning nine additional true bills, in which City Attorney F. W. Jones, Peter Sanichas and five others were re-indicted on charges of perjury in connection with their testimony concerning the alleged political corruption. The first indictments had been quashed or the defendants had been acquitted under instructions of the court after the States' evidence was heard.

DEMAND SURRENDER OF MEXICAN TOWN

President Taft and other administration officials that peace in Mexico may no be a dream and that there is reason to believe that he Mexican authorities will adopt a definite, restrictive policy along the border" to prevent border conflicts.

Senor Manuel de Zamacona, the new ambassador from Mexico, was presented to the President and declarations of friendship were exchanged. Information was given out at the White House that the rought draft of Mexico's formal note in reply to the State Department's demand that American border towns be not endangered by Mexican battles, has been placed in the hands of American Ambassador Wilson at Mexico City. Mr. Wilson reported to the President that the note as drafted was satisfactory and i is expected to reach the State Department in final form shortly.

A sub-committee of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs will meet the President and Secretary Knox at the White House tomorrow to confer on the Mexican situation.

Delegate Ralph Cameron, of Arizona, announced that he had received a letter from a business man at Douglas, declaring that Mexicans, both Federal and insurrectos, who were wounded at Agua Prieta were "being put to death" by the victors. Tonight he Red Cross here had no confirmation of this report.

In his formal speech to the President Senor Zamacona predicted peace in Mexico within a short time. The President assured the new ambassador that this government was not crouching on the border ready to spring upon Mexico. His telegram to Governor Sloan, of Arizona, the President said, explained his attitude. He declared that it is the "fervent hope of the United States that harmony may soon prevail.'

The President asked the ambassador to convey to President Diaz of Mexico, an appreciation of his good wishes and a hope for his personal happiness.

Decisive Battle Expected.

Presidio, Texas, April 19, via Marfa, Texas.—A decisive battle for possession of Ojinaga, across the border from Presidio is expected within 24 hours. Today, with the arrival of 300 insurrectos bringing two 12-pound cannon and one machine gun, preparations began in the insurgent camp for a rush on the Federal garrison. The new forces include 26 Americans, who are under the direct leadership of a noted character known as "Death Valley Slim." The army of Gen. Sanchez, insurrecto commander, now numbers about 900 men.

The famous McGinnity gun stolen from El Paso, was brought into play today for the first time since it fell into the hands of the insurrectos. It fired the first shot announcing the opening of the day's activities against the beleaguered city. Intermittent firing into the city has continued since the siege began a month ago.

The lines of opposing forces now are within pistol shot range.

Activity of the Rebels.

Torreon, Mexico, April ...—Nazas, Coahuila, was captured by rebels on Monday after a fight that began Sunday morning according to reports received today. The town was defended by thirty men, while the insurrectos numbered 96, under Cipriano Fuentes. On both sides the number of dead and wounded is said to be large.

Toluca, Mexico, April 19. — Hard pressed by General Leyoa's troops in Moreles, 300 rebels yesterday crossed the line into this State, and today four detachments of troops, numbering about 400, are attempting to surround them in the hills near Santiago Tianguistengo.

Yesterday the rebels entered Jalatlaco, where for several hours they burned public records and committed other depredations.

Atlixco, Mexico, April 19.—A body of rebels said to number 1,000, is reported to be preparing to attack this town which is well garrisoned. The main body of the rebels is said to be in the hills near Tepeojuma.

On Mission For Peace.

Palestine, April 19.—On a peace mission to Francisco Madero, Jr., Rebel Leader Senor Braniff, and O'Bregon, of Mexico City, passed through here last night. They are traveling from Washington, where they saw Dr. Gomez on a similar mission to El Paso whence they hope to reach Madero. They did not appear to be optimistic over the outlook for peace.

Federals Off for Ojinaga.

Chihuahua, Mexico, April 19.—One thousand Federal cavalrymen left here today for the relief of Ojinago. The insurrecto activity in the north found most of the available Federal troops here unprepared. Now there is a generaly outward movement to meet the insurrectos.

Word from the interior of the personal participation of Francisco Madero, the insurrecto leader, in the fighting makes it less probable that he will change his movements in order to confer with his father on peace proposals. It is possible, however, that the father may be able to place himself in touch with the leader. Peace possibilities, as viewed here are growing more remote.

It developed today that the fourteen American prisoners on their last day's march to Chihuahua from Casas Grandes had nothing to eat. For thirty-six hours they were without food as they marched over the edsert through blinding sand storms. This was due to the exigencies of war and not to neglect. All the prisoners are in excellent health and good spirits.

Federals Leave Agua Prieta.

Agua Prieta, Mex., April 19.—A detachment of 278 Federals, including cavalry, left Agua Prieta late today, under orders it is believed, to attack Juan Cabral's insurrectos, reported to be south of Naco, preparing to attack that town. The Federal column marched directly west, following the international line closely.

Fear of a renewal of insurgent efforts to capture Agua Prieta is probably responsible for the failure to send forward a larger force. That the rebels have not moved far from the town was indicated this morning when a small insurrecto band broke through the Federal lines and set fire to the Nacozari railroad station, which was destroyed, together with three carloads of provisions, miscellaneous supplies and machinery. In the ensuing skirmish several were killed. Owen Savage, a member of Troop K, First U. S. cavalry, is a prisoner in the bull ring. His eagerness to get into the fight was too great for his loyalty, and he deserted, taking with him an army pistol to fight with the rebels. Tied and roped, he was brought today before American Consul Dye, of Nogales, together with Tim K. Sullivan, an American from Bridgeport, Conn., the consul having requested to see them.

The Federals had kept Sullivan for several hours so tied with knotted ropes that he was unable to lie down or stand up. Sullivan saw service with the Boers in Africa. Savage asked the consul not to inform his family of his fate.

PROGRESS ON PEACE PLANS.

Made in Washington Yesterday—Gomez is Awaiting Orders.

Washington, April 19.—Considerable progress was made today in the negotiations for an armistice between the forces of the Federal government and the revolutionists in Mexico. Dr. Vasquez Gomez, head of the confidential agency of the revolutionists here, who is conducting the negotiations, received word tonight that his message setting forth the armistice proposition and requesting definite instructions for arranging the truce was on its way to General Madero, Jr., who is encamped several miles from Juarez, Mexico.

Dr. Gomez also was informed that his first message of last week sent by way of Chihuahua City and outlining the preliminary peace negotiations in which he had engaged had been received by Gen. Madero, but that a confusion as to the code used had made it impossible for the rebel leader to read it. A messenger, therefore, was despatched from El Paso, Texas, today, according to advices received here, who will pass through the Federal lines without molestation and will explain to Gen. Madero not only the initial messages concerning peace proposals, but the fact that Dr. Gomez is waiting orders from his chief for the armistice agreement now pending.

SONS OF THE REVOLUTION.

Officers Elected in Washington—North Carolinian Historian.

Washington, April 19.—General officers of the Sons of the Revolution to serve during the next three years were elected at the triennial convention of the organization here today.

Edmund Wetmore, of New York, was chosen president; James M. Montgomery, New York, vice president; Representative John W. Weeks, of Massachusetts, second vice president; Rev. Dr. Randolph H. McKim, District of Columbia, chaplain general; Wm. Libbey, New Jersey, secretary; Richard M. Cadwalader, Pennsylvania, treasurer; George E. Pomroy, Ohio, registrar, and Mark Hall Haywood, North Carolina, historian. A committee was appointed to consider the advisability of erecting here a statue to Francois Marquis DeGrasse Antully, a French officer who fought in the American revolution.

Chicago, April 19.—Three persons are believed to have been killed and a score were injured late tonight when a bomb was exploded on the northwest side under a building occupied by Joseph Bonci and Company, wholesale liquor dealers.

Richmond, Va., April 19.—The Virginia State League baseball season will open tomorrow, with games scheduled as follows: Richmond against Danville, at Richmond; Norfolk against Petersburg, at Norfolk, and Lynchburg against Roanoke, at the latter city.

ICE! ICE!! ICE!!!
-:-YES-:-
ICE! ICE!! and ICE!!!

One might almost be led to believe that this community had never seen Pure Ice until this good year 1911.

A great man once said "there is nothing new under the sun" and this is so to a great extent when it comes to the manufacture of ice.

Now, as a matter of fact, The Independent Ice Company has been for ten years and is still making as pure, as clean, as healthful to use ice as can be found in all North Carolina. We defy anyone to prove to the contrary. Our prices are as low as the lowest. We give full guaranteed weight. Our service is the best Wilmington ever had. We have a polite, accommodating corps of officials who will thank any one to report any act of neglect or discourtesy on the part of our wagon drivers or helpers.

Do the right thing for yourselves and for ourselves by taking ice from the old reliable.
